

SLEW FIVE MEN

Terrible Deed of Man Who Suddenly Became Maniac.

MEN BUTCHERED WITH KNIFE

Four Others Terribly Wounded and Two May Die—Tragedy Occurred in Slaughter House. Slashed Right and Left.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Somerville, Mass., June 5.—With a maniacal shriek John Murphy turned from pig-sticking to man-killing in the North Packing and Provision Company's slaughter house today, and driving his fellow workmen before him slew five of them and wounded four others. Two of the wounded were reported later as dying.

The dead are: Hubert Smith, colored, James Catre, colored; Thomas C. Catre, colored; and an unidentified man.

The wounded are: Dr. Daniel C. Hayes, government inspector at Waltham; John Cheever, John Lewis and John Patterson. Hayes and Janicus were fearfully slashed.

According to some of the workmen Murphy had been acting peculiarly for some days but he returned from his dinner this noon apparently in normal condition.

Shortly after 2 o'clock he suddenly uttered a blood curdling scream and sprang at Dr. Hayes, waving his 15-inch razor edged knife in his hand. He cut Dr. Hayes a deep gash on the neck, stabbed him over the heart and practically disemboweled him. The terrified workmen rushed for the door but Murphy ran after them, slashing right and left. Every man whom he struck went down with a groan. The crowd plunged down stairs with Murphy after them and at every landing he cut.

At the second floor one of the workmen, an Italian, seized a heavy bar of iron and felled Murphy but he was quickly on his feet again and wounded another man.

On the street floor he was given another heavy blow on the head and his knife was wrested from his hand. Two police officers came in to assist the workmen and Murphy was given a fearful beating and finally overpowered and taken to the police station.

Murphy is 50 years old, weighs 200 pounds and was regarded as one of the strongest men in the plant. He is married and lives in Somerville. It was reported that there was very little hope of Dr. Hayes or Cheever surviving.

VIRGINIA HORSES FOR ARMY

Government Well Pleased With Old Dominion Animal.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 5.—So well pleased is Quartermaster General Akshere, of the army with horses recently purchased in Virginia for the use of the United States cavalry that he is making arrangements for leasing property near Front Royal, Va., for use as a station for animals bought in that section.

Captain Casper H. Conrad, Jr., will have charge of the purchasing of horses in Virginia and when sufficient numbers have been bought they will be shipped to the army remount at Fort Reno and Fort Keogh.

OFFICER HELD FOR JURY.

Winston-Salem Policeman Who Killed Negro—Under $5,000 Bond.

Raleigh, N. C., June 5.—In the coroner's hearing concluded late this afternoon at Winston-Salem, Officer Williams, who killed a negro named Freeman, was found not entirely blameless and was held for the grand jury under bond of $5,000 which was given. Williams and the negro had a difficulty and the latter had a pistol in his hand when shot by the officer.

DAY'S DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Op. of Angola Swamp Lands Grant—ed—ral Court Cases—Indictment—Newbern Bank Matter—Jury Granted.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 5.—The State Board of Education, grants an option for the sale of the Angola Bay Swamp lands in Pender and Duplin counties to John A. Stewart, 125 Broadway, New York. The terms are that 50c per acre shall be paid for 50,000 acres involved in consideration of timber, and an additional 25 cents per acre if the timber value of lands develops to that extent. The Stewart interests must drain the lands and fit them for agriculture, and when placed on the market the State is to have 15 per cent. of the revenue from the sale of the improved lands which it is believed will be the richest in America.

One year in the penitentiary at Atlanta is the sentence by Judge Connor in the U. S. Court against J. E. Young, guilty of operating a blockade distillery while deputy sheriff in St. Mary's township, this county. Counsel are trying now to induce the Judge to change the sentence so Young will begin his sentence in October after his crop is laid by.

Robert Thompson, a well connected young man of Cumberland county, entered a plea of guilty of participation in the operation of a blockade distillery. His uncle is a reputable man of Cumberland, and assured the Judge that his nephew had fallen into bad company this alone being the cause of his offense. He promised to take the young man who is scarcely out of his "teens" under his care. Judgment is suspended and the boy allowed to try a new start in life.

George Little, for a number of years in the office of First Vice President Andrews, of the Southern Railroad, is appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture as bookkeeper and stenographer in the old division of the Department at a salary of $1,200.

The Federal court grand jury here has just returned true bills of indictment against J. R. B. Carraway, teller of the First National Bank of Newbern charging the embezzlement of $115,000 from the bank and against Editor C. L. Stevens, of the Newbern Journal, and J. F. Taylor of Newbern, as accessories, the charges being that Carraway's actions were with the knowledge and procurement in part of Messrs. Stevens and Taylor; that the embezzlement was in part by means of false credits to Stevens and Taylor, the payment of checks and keeping these off the books. The trial of these men will be in Newbern at the October term unless Judge Connor decides to convene a special term in Newbern during the Summer. Mr. Stevens is out in a card giving the whole history of his transactions with the bank, stating that at the request of the bank's officers he gave them all his bank books, check, etc., for three years while they were investigating Carraway's shortage and was surprised later to receive a demand from the directors to make good an alleged overdraft of $8,262.05 of which he had no knowledge. In April, refusing to pay the demands of the bank, civil action was brought to recover the amount. He says that if an indictment has been made it is cruel and false.

Governor Kitchin has received from Hon. J. S. Manning, of Durham, his resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees of the University and also as a member of the State Senate from the Durham district. These resignations are occasioned by his acceptance of the appointment as a member of the State Supreme Court to succeed Judge Connor.

WARSAW FOR SCHOOLS

Additional Tax of 15 Cents Voted Yesterday—Educational Progress.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Warsaw, N. C., June 5.—The local election today to settle the question of an additional school tax of 15 cents on the $100 valuation of property and 45 cents on the poll resulted in a sweeping victory for the schools. The vote standing 87 for additional tax to 26 against. The old rate was 30 cents on the $100 valuation of property and 90 cents on the poll. Warsaw is to have a new $12,000 brick school building modern in all its appointments, work to begin on same right away. The Warsaw people are very proud of their graded school and loyal in their support of Professor B. I. Tart in his untiring efforts to build up the school interests of the town as is evidenced by their vote today as well as in many other ways.

The British steamer Langdale cleared from Norfolk yesterday for London inaugurating a regular passenger service between Norfolk and that port. This is the first direct passenger service between Norfolk and London since steamers succeeded trans-Atlantic passenger sailing ships.

COTTON SCHEDULE

Senator Aldrich and Protectionists Having Their Own Way.

SPECIFIC DUTIES ON CLOTH

High Tariff Men Won by Good Majority—Senator Dolliver Disgruntled Tillman Calls Finance Committee Buccaneers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 5.—After devoting the larger portion of the day to listening to a discussion of the cotton cloth schedule, the Senate entered upon a period of voting late in the afternoon and very rapidly disposed of the entire subject of changing from ad valorem to specific duties for the purpose of preventing under valuations. On all the votes taken the finance committee was sustained by a majority of ten or eleven.

Three ballots were necessary to accomplish this result and others would have been necessary but for Senator Bacon who, seeing the futility of opposing the committee, suggested the grouping of the votes after the first two ballots had been taken. This suggestion was unanimously agreed to, with the result that so much was accomplished that a night session was not held.

Senator Dolliver occupied much of the time with a speech in which he indulged in much caustic criticism of the methods of the finance committee. He declared that Senators Aldrich and Smoot, of that committee, were at variance in their estimates of the effect of the committee's action on the cotton schedule, the former contending that there had been a change of only 10 per cent, while Mr. Smoot had placed the change at 30 per cent.

Mr. Aldrich was, however, prompt in his correction of this statement, asserting that his use of the per cent. estimate applied to cotton importations affected by the bill and not to the changes in duties. Mr. Dolliver also gave much attention to a petition numerously signed by leading merchants of New York for the retention of the Dingley law rates on cottons, and when Mr. Aldrich attempted to show that most of the signatures were those of importers the Iowa Senator replied by reading the names of many who were not engaged in that business.

The first vote of the day was on an amendment consolidating the paragraph relating to the cheaper cloths which was won by the usual majority, the vote standing 41 to 30. This result was so pronounced as to lead Senator Tillman to make the characteristic appeal to permit the tariff bill to come to a vote, because, as he declared, there was no doubt as to what the result would be. Incidentally, he asserted that the members of the finance committee were "the boldest band of buccaners that ever got together."

The latter portion of the day's session was devoted to a discussion of the committee's change as in the interest of higher duties, and when Mr. Aldrich explained that a very small percentage of the importations were affected by the substitution of specific for ad valorem duties, the Iowa Senator responded that however small the change, it should be made along right lines.

The votes on the change of system were then taken, after which the Senate at 5:30 P. M. adjourned until Monday.

CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT

Condition of New York Banks at Close of Business.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 5.—The statement of Clearing house banks for the week shows that the banks hold $18,856,300 more than the requirements of the 25 per cent. reserve rule. This is a decrease of $6,128,925 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week. The statement follows:
Loans $1,343,031,400, increase $11,185,400.
Deposits $1,407,255,200, increase $9,094,900.
Circulation $49,053,200, decrease $47,400.
Legal tenders $76,401,400, decrease $1,266,800.
Specie $294,268,700, decrease $2,548,400.
Reserve $370,670,100, decrease $3,855,200.
Reserve required $351,813,800, decrease $2,273,725.
Surplus $18,856,300, decrease $6,128,925.
The percentage of actual reserve of the clearing house banks today was 26.30.

The statement of banks and trust companies of greater New York, not reporting to the clearing house shows that these institutions have aggregate deposits of $1,309,557,400, total cash on hand $147,502,100, and loans amounting to $1,136,153,900.

VETERAN'S REUNION

Confederate Soldiers Will Gather at Memphis This Week.

PLANNING TO GREET THEM

Two North Carolinians in Appointments of General Evans—Will be Remembered Gathering. Virginia Choirs.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Memphis, Tenn., June 5.—Realizing that, by the very force of nature, they will probably never again have the opportunity to entertain the soldiers of the "Lost Cause," the citizens of Memphis are bending every energy to make the approaching Reunion of Confederate Veterans an event long to be remembered.

The dates named for the annual gathering are June 8th, 9th and 10th, and every preparation has been made looking to the pleasure and comfort of the visiting warriors. Food in abundance and healthful lodgings are gratuitously awaiting those who come and properly register. Varied amusements will be provided and the General Executive Committee, having in charge all arrangements, announce that no extortionate fees will be exacted from visitors by hotels and boarding houses.

General Clement A. Evans, commander in chief U. C. V., today announced the appointment of Miss Elizabeth Donelson Lake, of Memphis, Tenn., as chief maid of honor. Miss Carolina Dupree Steele, of Kentucky, who was first named as chief maid of honor, will be unable to serve on account of a bereavement in her family.

The following appointments by General Evans are announced:

J. C. McCollum, of Atlanta, to be brigadier general and assistant adjutant general. Those named to be colonel and aide camp are J. T. Brown, Winston-Salem, N. C.; J. C. Currie, Fayetteville, N. C.; J. T. Moore, Moore, S. C.; C. A. Reed, Anderson, S. C.; J. Orey Reed, St. George, S. C.; and J. V. Harris, M. D., Key West, Fla.

General Evans announced the following members of his staff to take charge of the reunion and all social features pertaining to headquarters: Colonel William B. Leedy, Birmingham, Ala., chairman; Col. Philip H. Fall, Houston Texas; Col. John W. Faxon, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Henry Moorman, Hardinsburg, Ky.; Col. J. A. Harrel, New Orleans; Col. G. N. Saussy, Sylvestre, Ga.; Col. James G. Crowe, Sheffield, Ala.; Col. John H. Bankhead, Fayette, Ala.; Col. Joseph F. Johnston, Birmingham, Ala.; Col. R. P. Lake, Memphis, Tenn.; Col. Henry Myers, Memphis, Tenn.; and Col. A. T. Holt, Macon, Ga.

The addition of 28 new camps to the United Confederate Veterans' organization was announced today.

MR. JACOB S. ALLEN DEAD

Former Wilmingtonian Passes Away in Raleigh—The Funeral.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 5.—Mr. Jacob S. Allen died at his home here tonight, aged 70 years. He served throughout the civil war in a company of the 2nd North Carolina Regiment and was wounded at Malvern Hill. His long and useful business career was spent in Wilmington and Raleigh.

A widow and seven children survive him, the children being: Mr. W. P. Oldham, Jr., of Omaha; Mrs. C. A. Haley, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. John N. Mason, of Durham; Mrs. Oscar C. McCollum, of New York; J. S. Allen, Jr., of Philadelphia; T. K. Allen, of Washington, and John G. Allen, of Raleigh.

The funeral services will be held from the First Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a deacon for many years, Monday afternoon.

GEORGIA'S CROPS FOR 1909.

Meeting to Consider Marketing Cotton and Wheat Output.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., June 5.—The marketing of the 1909 cotton and wheat crops will be considered here on June 24th in a meeting of State representatives and prominent business men of the Farmers' Union. President Charles S. Barrett, of the Union, tonight issued a call for the meeting saying that the handling of the cotton warehouses owned by members of the Union will be principal business of the meeting and that consideration will be given also to the wheat crop.

The call includes State presidents, secretaries, treasurers, organizers, business agents, managers of all co-operative enterprises and editors of farmers' union newspapers.

Mrs. J. M. Green, at Richland, killed herself and three children, aged 12, 7 and 2 yesterday at Corsicana, Texas. The woman used a razor. Domestic troubles are said to have been the cause.

In a fit of insanity yesterday at Marquam, Ore., Bert Garrett placed a charge of dynamite under the kitchen of his house. The house was destroyed and Garrett, his wife and daughter, aged 5, were killed.

NINE BALLOONS IN RACE

Six Will Compete in Long Distance Voyage For Trophy—Three Will Try to Stay Aloft Longest Period.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Indianapolis, June 5.—Nine balloons cast loose late this afternoon at the Motor Speedway five miles northwest of this city and sailed off due south in a straight line over the city. Six of them are competing in the National distance race for the trophy of the Aero Club of America, and three for the cup offered by the Indiana Aero Club to the pilot and his aide that shall be able to stay aloft the longest period.

The first starters, beginning at 3:45 o'clock, were the three entered in the Indiana endurance race: Dr. H. W. Thompson, of Salem, Ohio, and W. E. Maest, of Canton, Ohio, in the Ohio; Dr. Goethe Link and J. R. Irwin, of Indianapolis, in the Indianapolis, and C. A. Coey and John Bennett of Chicago, in the Chicago, the largest balloon on the field. All rose easily.

The National distance race started at 5 o'clock and the contestants sailed off in a file to the south in the following order: A. Holland Forbes and Clifford Harmon, of New York, in the New York; Carl G. Fisher and C. L. Bumbaugh, of Indianapolis, in the Indianapolis; A. L. Lambert and H. E. Honeywell, of St. Louis, in the St. Louis III; A. H. Morgan and J. H. Wade, Jr., of Cleveland, in the Cleveland; Captain T. S. Baldwin, of New York and Charles Walsh, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., in the Hoosier; and John Berry and John McCullough, of St. Louis, in the University City.

MR. HENRY WALTERS, LL. D.

Degree Conferred by Georgetown University Upon Distinguished Man.

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

Washington, June 3.—From the hands of Cardinal Gibbons, his friend of long standing, Mr. Henry Walters, of Baltimore, owner of the famous Walters Art Gallery, received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from Georgetown University tonight at its annual commencement. Honored jointly with Mr. Walters is James H. Higgins, former Governor of Rhode Island. Mr. Walters, who is a bachelor of arts of the class of 1869 and a master of arts of the class of 1871, Georgetown, arrived tonight and received the degree in person.

In conferring the degree upon Mr. Walters the diploma, which was translated and read as follows:

"Whereas it is but right that they who have given their best efforts to the betterment of their fellow-men, as well as to the diffusion of culture and the fine arts, should be dignified with a proper symbol of honor, we are of a mind that Henry Walters, a distinguished alumnus of this University of Georgetown, should be placed in this category of praise. For it is a matter of general knowledge that he has displayed a generous liberality to his needy and, following in the footsteps of his father, no less conspicuous for his culture, he has thrown open to the enjoyment of his fellow-citizens his invaluable treasures of art, collected through a lifetime, with a resultant wide recognition of his distinction for culture and artistic taste. This surely must be recognized as a source of the highest gratification to this university, within whose halls he learned his first lessons of a love for the fine arts.

"Therefore, in virtue of the power granted us by the supreme authority of these United States, we decree that the same Henry Walters shall be crowned with the laurel of jurisprudence, and we hereby create and proclaim him doctor of laws.

"And furthermore, that this right shall be duly secured him, we have with fullest commendation issued these letters patent, signed by our hand and sealed with the great seal of the university on this 3rd day of June in the year of grace 1909."

CAPE FEAR FRESHET

Water Had Reached 35 Feet Last Night—Scaffolding Gone.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., June 5.—Owing to recent heavy rains the Cape Fear river is rapidly rising and at 7 o'clock tonight is 35 feet high. It is now rising five inches an hour but is expected to recede before morning though it is thought that the flood may reach the height of 40 feet.

The scaffolding used in building the new steel bridge across the river at this point was swept away last night, entailing a heavy loss on the Owego Bridge Company, the contractors. The trolley tackling at the ferry is being also wrecked. The only means of communication with the east side of the river is again the Atlantic Coast Line railroad bridge.

DEATH RESULT OF STRIKE.

Motorman Hurt in Riot in Philadelphia Died Yesterday.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, June 5.—Normal street car service, following the calling off of the strike of the trolley men of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, late last night, was established. The day passed quiet and no further trouble is apprehended.

J. D. Jones, of New York, who was employed as a motorman during the strike, died in a hospital here tonight from internal injuries received in a riot last Wednesday night.

An error by Simmons, a single and a stolen base by Byrd after Miller was out from the infield, followed by another safety down third base line by Gilmore after Armstrong had fanned, netted the visitors two runs and gave Wilson the game with the locals at League Park yesterday afternoon before the largest crowd ever seen at a ball game in this city, estimates running variously from 2,000 to 2,500.

Wilson squeezed in another in the ninth on an error by Smith, another single by Gilmore and a stolen base by Armstrong, which combined with a bad throw by Kite to third to let in a run after two men were down. Lane, on the slab for Wilson, pitched a magnificent game and allowed but two hits, not one of which came before the eighth inning. Sexton was in the box for the locals and plied his usual conscientious game, but slow fielding ran up seven hits on him during the nine innings.

As a result of the game, it is understood that Simmons, short, and Fox, first baseman, have been given their release and that their places will be filled at Rocky Mount Monday by a shortstop from Winston-Salem's team last season in the Carolina Association, and by a heavy-hitting first baseman from the South Atlantic League, Fatten, a pitcher from Columbia, S. C., will also be with the team in Rocky Mount Monday, the men making their first appearance locally with Rocky Mount here the last half of the week.

The game opened with both teams out in order except that Smith walked. The story of the second so far as concerns Wilson has been told. Jayes for Wilmington was safe on error of third and stole second after Kite was out; Simmons sacrificed him to third but Fox was out from the infield. Both teams were out in order in the third and in the fourth Cooper and Byrd led off with singles to left, but Armstrong fanned and Byrd was caught between first and second and Cooper was out at third; Gilmore was up and Byrd was caught at second. Wilmington was out in order. Smith, Kite and Levy. Both teams were up and down in the fifth. In the sixth Guerrant got his base by throwing both the ball and the bat at Sexton, being forced by Yerkes at second; Miller flew to Levy who muffed but Yerkes was caught at second; Cooper walked and was caught at second.

In the seventh, Lane was safe on error of Sexton but the others were out in order. Smith and Levy fanned for Wilmington, Kite walked and Jayes popped out to short.

In the eighth Miller got a single but was caught at second. Hope rose in the eighth for Wilmington but it was short-lived. Simmons, first up, connected with Lane for the first hit of the game and stole second, bringing on much talk with the umpire; Fox flew out to short; Sexton hit to short and went to second while Simmons was caught between second and third; Sharp singled to right but Sexton was caught at the plate. The one run came for Wilson in her half of the ninth, but Wilmington was out in order. Streater, Smith and Levy.

LA FOLLETTE'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Our esteemed contemporary, The Congressional Record, continues to come to us regularly. We cannot fail to observe that the Senators and Representatives must stand in with the editor for he continues to devote his space to great and profound speeches on the tariff and other momentous and vital questions which have been wrestled with, dissected, analyzed and solved. Nine-tenths of these speeches were never delivered, because the aggregate body of Senators and Representatives would stand for it and would sit still and listen to men who actually believe they knew what they are talking about. But for these speeches of Senators and Representatives, kindly published by the painstaking and considerate editor of The Record, no doubt at great sacrifice of space and outlay of money for type setting, we would never know that some of them had reached Washington after leaving home with a vicious determination to break it off in the gang who think they own the Capitol because they've got all kinds of money left over from the Republican campaign fund subscribed by the Trusts that were in mortal fear of being busted if the Democratic party elected a President.

However, we must refer again to the editor of The Record in order to express the hope that he will make space for a tariff speech that annihilated time and exhausted all the supply of oxygen in the Senate Chamber. We call his attention to the fact that our old friend, Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, within the past week spoke on the tariff some three or four days and while his wind supply was exhausted several times, we feel grateful that a courteous Senate allowed him to take intervals of rest so he could catch his breath and get his air pump in action again. The Senators fully appreciated the situation for they are some sort of windjammers themselves. Most of them, figuratively speaking, had cotton in their ears, and didn't believe a word the Wisconsin statesman was pumping into them, but that makes no difference. Let it all pass, for what we want to do is to get the speech published in The Record and also to unburden ourself of a profusion of thanks to the Senators for taking their dose and not getting rough with our Wisconsin friend when he got too strong on the people's side of the question.

In this expression of gratefulness we want it understood that Senators Penrose and Gallinger are ruthlessly excepted from any share in it what soever. They tried to "throw off" Senator LaFollette and manifested every disposition to swat him in the slats. However, they knew what they were sent to the Senate for and they just had to do something or say something to let the interests know that they were not dead ducks in the pit but were still working for them.

It is true that Senator LaFollette had to speak to a great bunch of empty seats, for a great many of the Senators are addicted to the smoking habit and if they had lit their cigars in the Senate chamber the Sergeant-at-Arms would have ejected them in the presence of the press representatives who surely and certainly would have telegraphed sensational stuff about it to their papers. Therefore, they had to go out to the cloakroom to puff their stogies while others just had to write letters or send marked copies of The Congressional Record to their constituents (plutocrats and plebeians) in order to convince them that they are doing things that entitle them to renewed confidence and reelection when the time rolls around.

Finally, here's hoping that Senator LaFollette's got his wind back by now. He is entitled to a Carnegie hero medal for running the risk of taking the side of the people in a Senate composed of men, who but for the sake of decency and a certain amount of propriety, would have jumped on him and put him out of business for daring to champion the cause of the meek and long-suffering consumers who are helplessly looking on while "the tariff is being revised by its friends."

We don't hear much of the lobbyists around Washington but all the same they are there with the glad hand for the Congressmen and woeful predictions of the danger threatening the industries if the tariff bill is not passed by its friends who are pretending to revise it.

NOW FOR THE OLD GUARD.

Here is the way the Jacksonville Times-Union Comments upon the Republican situation in North Carolina, as it has resulted from the recent policy adopted by President Taft as to making appointments to Federal offices:

"Whether or not it is true that Napoleon's Old Guard was willing to die, but refused to surrender at Waterloo in a set speech to that effect, we are plainly given to understand that the old line of Republicans in the South—the thin black line that has monopolized so long the federal patronage—will die fighting, even though it must throw rocks at a Republican president to accomplish this object. Mr. Taft says his appointees must be acceptable to the community in which they are to represent the dignity and respectability of the nation. Now none of this black line will ever discover a Southern community dark enough to accept them willingly, and they know it—the Republican that is acceptable in the South does not belong to 'de gang,' and will not represent it. Did you ever see a herd of hogs being driven from the swill trough? Did you note how they squeal out protests and even bite each other in despair? Watch for something very like this scene when the president begins to push his policy into the ranks of that thin black line."

"The first note comes from North Carolina, where Mr. Duncan, member of the Republican national committee, gives notice that he will fight, or at least refuse to support, the presidential policy. Well, was it expected that he would help cut off the supply of bread and butter? If such men as this Duncan got into line with the proposition that they leave the swill tub, we would suspect that an underground pipe had been fixed for them, and we would immediately look for Rooseveltian plays upon words or departure from good faith—it is the squeal that gives notice of protest from the hog. Some hogs finally eat enough and walk off—the Republican hog in the South leaves only after he is beaten off or choked off or loses his head entirely."

There is a lot of truth in what our esteemed Jacksonville contemporary says, and the fact is the president looked at it that way, too. Nevertheless, there are a good many able and deserving Republicans in North Carolina, but unfortunately they are in a position where their leaders discredit them.

GARDEN SPOT FOR HOME SEEKERS.

Cotton, tobacco, peanuts, corn, and truck of all kinds, ready money crops, is what the soil of eastern North Carolina is peculiarly adapted to. What we need is thrifty people to utilize the thousands of acres of fine lands lying idle only to be turned into profit by industry.

Some of our Northern exchanges state that the trend of the young American is now Southward. There is no reason, therefore, why this region of North Carolina should not induce some of our own countrymen to come here as settlers, town builders and industrial promoters. Cannot some organized movement be started to advertise the resources and opportunities which eastern Carolina offers to the enterprising and thrifty home-seeker? This is the specially favored region of America.

CAUSE OF THE PANIC.

The Greensboro Telegram remarks: "Mr. Harriman says the panic was caused by the big fine imposed on Standard Oil by Judge Landis. Isn't it more likely that the real trouble was that the government didn't collect the fine?"

The logical deduction is that the Standard Oil Company started it first and caused Judge Landis to impose a fine that the Roosevelt administration didn't collect. The first sinner is the culprit.

The Graham dispatch says: "The Republican party of North Carolina is composed of men just as respectable, just as decent and just as honorable as a like number of the Democratic party." This unsupported testimony is too late, to do the defendants any good. Judge Taft has already rendered his decision on the evidence that was lying around loose.

A dispatch from Statesville says 150 or more citizens attended a Government auction sale of whiskey seized by revenue officers, "but a great many of those present were only spectators." We'll bet, however, that there were enough expectators in the crowd to make bids satisfactory to the auctioneer.

The United States Senate is holding night sessions to consider the tariff bill. Makes no difference. Senator Aldrich, even in the daylight sessions, shows his ability to keep the overage Senator in the dark about his plan for making them swallow his high tariff measure.

The Charlotte Evening News says the Board of Aldermen of Charlotte will hold a meeting Monday night and "economy is the slogan." Economy ought always to be that with officials who should remember that paying taxes is actually burdensome to most people.

"Jordan is a hard road to travel" a contemporary reminds us. What difference does it make? Most men are not traveling that way.

The New York Tribune (Mossback Republican) declares its confidence that "a long list of tariff duties ultimately will be reduced to a substantial degree." We are now convinced that the Tribune still believes that bag of gold "ultimately" will be found at the end of the rainbow.

According to a decree of a French Court Princess de Sagan, formerly Boni's, must pay a note given by Count Boni de Castellane to cover his courting expenses. A decision like that in this country would encourage young men to buy diamonds on credit.

The New York Press remarks that there are 2,754 languages. What an angry woman can say in any one of them, however, will make an offending man feel like she had lit into him with all the known tongues.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, boasts that he was raised in the land of hogs. The supplementary evidence of the fact is that he shows his raising by going the whole hog on the Aldrich tariff hold-up.

The Greensboro Record vouches for the fact that this early in the season lightning bugs and toadfrogs have been seen. Well, we still have hopes of Editor Reese till he begins to "see snakes."

"There are sometimes when men can't tell the truth," a preacher declares. Ain't it so? In North Carolina the time is June, when the men have to face the tax listers.

Cities competing in population with Wilmington are positively prohibited from inducing the city directory man to include all the inhabitants of the county.

A New York woman testified in court that she lives "a hit and miss life." She didn't say how often she hits but we judge from the evidence that the old man is a good dodger.

The Houston Post contains a new "pome" entitled "Get Reconciled." Senator LaFollette will please read it and join us in bowing to the inevitable.

A Chicago woman earned a dollar for the missionary cause by shaving her husband for a month. While it was going on surely he didn't have the face to try to make a mash.

The Republican tariff hoisters are dead opposed to giving raw material its liberty.

In these days of tariff freebootery the consumer is also the consumed.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Hoke Smith announces that he was "just about to issue instructions to sheriffs to preserve order along the route of the Georgia Railroad" when the strike was called off. Fiddlesticks! That's like the kid who was just about to put the apple back on the fruit stand when the policeman grabbed him.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

The truth is that when once we begin to assume the right by ecclesiastical authority or otherwise to regulate, outside the plain teachings of the Bible and the laws of the land, the personal conduct and habits of people; and when once the churches begin to interfere in political, social or other secular matters, there is no line or limit. Every organization has its share of extremists, and when extremists gain control and overpower conservatism danger and disaster and reaction are inevitable.—Richmond News Leader.

Senator Elkins has invented a new phrase which is likely to be used quite frequently in the next campaign. He applies the name "spotted protection" to those who want a high tariff on things sold by their constituents and a low tariff on things bought by their constituents. His criticism is entirely justified—a man who wants protection must give protection. It can not be one-sided. The "spotted protectionist" is as inconsistent as the "spotted tariff reformer." The spots are, as in the case of deer, a sign of youth. They will come off after a while. A man must be all protection or all reformer—he can not be half and half.—Bryan's Commoner.

There has been a time when free debate in the United States Senate led to good results, but the prolongation on present lines of the discussion on the Tariff only demonstrates more fully day by day the amount of ignorance and inconsistency prevailing among those who arrogate to themselves almost a monopoly of the brains, knowledge and patriotism of the country. The people are going to be sold out. Why delay the job any longer by bald misrepresentations and silly twaddle? Get through the process of skinning the silent millions as speedily as possible, and let the bondservants of the preferred classes know the worst and be done with it.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

In August, 1894, just after the mutilated Wilson bill had become a law, Grover Cleveland, in a letter to Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, wrote the following words: "Tariff reform will not be settled until it is honestly and fairly settled, in the interest and to the benefit of a patient and long-suffering people. The trusts and combinations—the communism of self—whose machinations have prevented us from reaching the success we deserved, should not be forgotten nor forgiven." These words of the great democratic president are entirely appropriate to

HAPPENINGS AND DOINGS

IN SOCIETY

By M. H.

Miss Nellie Durham left for Greensboro on Tuesday last, where she will visit friends for several weeks.

Friends of Mr. Lewis Belden are glad to see him back after attending the State University at Chapel Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northrop and family moved to Wrightsville Beach on Monday last, where they will spend the Summer.

Miss Jane Iredell Meares returned during the past week from "Fassifern," Lincolnton, N. C., where she has been attending school.

Miss Virginia Bailey is the guest of Miss Jessie Crosswell, in Fayetteville, N. C., having left during the past week to visit Miss Crosswell for a short while.

Miss Sue Prince will leave for Charlotte during the approaching week, where she will visit friends for two or three weeks. Miss Prince will be greatly missed by her friends here.

The many friends of Mrs. Thos. Philip Hammer will be interested to learn that she left the city on Saturday last for Philadelphia, where she will visit relatives for the next month.

Miss Dick, of Greensboro, N. C., who is most pleasantly known here to a number of friends, is the guest of Miss Atha Hicks, on South Third street, where she will visit for a week or ten days.

The many friends of Miss Olive Quince are delighted to see her in the city again, after an absence of several months spent in Georgia and Florida as the guest of friends and relatives.

The friends of Mr. Walker Meares are pleased to see him in the city again where he will spend the next two or three months. Mr. Meares has been located at Hartsville, S. C. for the past several months.

Miss Margaret Williams, who has been the attractive guest of Miss Sally Wright, on Market street, left for Jacksonville, Fla., her home, on Saturday morning, to the regret of many friends she has made during her stay here.

Friends of Mr. Edward Wooten, who has been a resident of Atlanta for some time, are extending him a cordial welcome to his old home. Mr. Wooten having arrived on Tuesday for a short stay with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Wooten.

Friends of Miss Delamare Burbank will be glad to learn that she has returned to her home, after a very pleasant visit of several weeks to friends in Raleigh. Miss Burbank was accompanied on her return by Miss Nannie Lee, who is pleasantly remembered here, having visited Wilmington last Summer.

After a delightful visit of several weeks to Miss Julia Parsley, Miss Eliza Drane returned to her home in Edenton during the past week. Miss Drane has been the recipient of many pleasant attentions during her stay in Wilmington and has made many friends who regret to learn of her departure.

Mr. Frederick Munds left for Pittsburgh, Pa., on Thursday afternoon, where he will shortly resume his position with the Westinghouse Company, stopping en route, however, at Washington, N. C., Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, in all of which cities he will visit for several days each. Mr. Munds has many friends here who greatly regret his departure.

Another house party was given under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Reeves, at the Parsley Cottage, on Wrightsville Beach, during the past week, members of the party having gone down on Wednesday evening to remain about a week. Those composing the party are, Misses Theresa Parsley, Blanche Parsley, Mary Owen Green, Carrie Sale Hardwick, Isabel Smallbones, and Messrs. J. C. Dehay, Stevenson Brown, Hunter, Thos Moore and Hugh Foster.

Mr. George Elliott, accompanied by his little niece, Miss Katharine Elliott, left on Thursday to join Mrs. Elliott and children in Baltimore, where they have gone to attend the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Elliott to Dr. Gordon Wilson, which took place yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Dr. Wilson is a prominent young society man in Baltimore, and Miss Elliott is the daughter of the late Mr. Warren G. Elliott and formerly lived in Wilmington, where she has a host of friends who will be interested to learn of her marriage.

Many Wilmington people have taken advantage of the beautiful moonlight nights during the past week to enjoy the delightful river trip on the steamer "Wilmington," several moonlight trips having been run, on all of which large crowds were in attendance. It has been learned with pleasure that the trips to the pier will be continued this Summer, the boat leaving the city at 5:15 o'clock. This "Pier Trip" has always been very popular and gives those who do not care for a longer trip an opportunity to enjoy a delightful and refreshing boat ride on the Cape Fear.

Many friends in this section of the State will be interested in the announcement of the forthcoming marriage on June 16th of Miss Myrtle Wade, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wade, of Dunn, N. C.

and Mr. N. A. Townsend, a leading young attorney of the same town, associated in the practice of his profession with Hon. H. L. Godwin. The announcement of the marriage was recently made at a surprise party at the hospitable home of the bride's parents in Dunn and the cards have subsequently been issued. Both prospective groom and bride-elect are among the most popular young people of their section of the State.

The last and decidedly most interesting meet which has been held at the Cape Fear Country Club this season was held on Saturday last, when a tournament was engaged in by a number of the club members. The links were in excellent condition, the weather was ideal, and all things combined to make it a most delightful occasion. The championship cup was

ADVICE ON SEA BATHING

James Boyles in New York American.

We have reached the season of the year when the call of the sea begins to appeal very strongly to dwellers in cities. This is natural, and those who can yield to it are likely to gain benefit from so doing, if prudent. A few words of practical advice may be useful to those who from this time until late in September will crowd the nearby seaside resorts.

There is a popular notion that one does not take cold at the seashore, no matter how imprudent. This is a mistake. Both salt air and salt water are stimulating and the skin is less liable to be chilled at the shore than inland, but one may take cold there very easily, and many do as the result of imprudence.

For many the chief attraction of the seashore is surf bathing. To one sweltering in town the thought of a header into the breakers is most agreeable and to hurry where the pleasure may be enjoyed seems for the moment the end and aim of life. In few things is caution more necessary, especially if surf bathing is an infrequent pleasure. This is especially true in very warm weather. The man who, after a hard day's work, hurries to the shore, dons a bathing suit, and, overheated and fatigued, plunges into salt water, takes a risk which is out of all proportion to the pleasure or benefit gained in the most favorable circumstances. One should never bathe when fatigued and relaxed, nor when very warm. Salt water carries away the heat from the surface of the body very rapidly. This is in some degree compensated for by active exercise in the water, but if tired one does not feel like running and jumping and if one does the resistance to chill thus effected is attained at the expense of muscular nerve force. The effect of a bath under these conditions is likely to be exhausting and depressing.

As to the length of time one may, or should, remain in the water it is impossible to lay down any rule. Every one must judge this for himself, and to judge correctly is not difficult if one will note and heed his sensations. The first shudder from contact with the cold water is not especially significant. Every one experiences it to a greater or less degree. It is what follows that is important. Both heart and lungs are affected by the driving back of blood into the internal organs, but this effect may be only momentary. If the breathing continues deep and labored and the pulse slow, one can not get ashore too quickly.

One living at a seaside hotel, who can bathe when his convenience and the tide suggest it, commonly finds that a nap after a bath is very agreeable. For the "tripper" this is scarcely possible. If the depression he experiences continues, if he is drowsy, if he feels that he needs alcoholic stimulation to bring him back to normal condition, and especially if irritable and nervous, he should have no difficulty in recognizing that his bath has done him a great deal more harm than good. This is the experience of a large proportion of those who take a sea bath to "rest and cool off." It does not rest them, and the cooling off continues long after it would be agreeable to feel warm and comfortable again. I was compelled to give up sea bathing for the reason that I could effect the restoration of normal conditions of circulation and temperature only by artificial means, and sometimes only after a sleep under heavy blankets.

Only those in good health can safely indulge in sea bathing, unless under the advice of a conscientious and experienced physician. Persons afflicted with diseases of the heart, lungs, kidney and liver can not safely enter the surf. I am inclined to think this is also true of those troubled with indigestion, and particularly of dyspeptics. Observation and experience lead me to believe that, while sea air is often beneficial to invalids, sea bathing is rarely so. It is rarely either pleasant or beneficial to old people. Children are usually benefitted by it, but not invariably. In their case the reaction is likely to be quicker and more complete than in adults, but if it leaves them languid and sleepy they should be permitted to bathe only infrequently and only for a few moments at a time.

Every one would be benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for constipation, stomach and liver trouble, as it sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Robt. R. Bellamy.

Domestic and Imported

I am now introducing to the public a sale that is extraordinary in every sense of the word. As you are perhaps aware, there are two distinct classes of fabrics—one Domestic and the other Imported, and, as everyone knows, there is a considerable difference in their values. Domestic woollens have reached a very high plane, but for fineness and super-quality the foreigners easily take the lead. That is why a suit made from imported woollens is higher priced than the home product. Now The International Tailoring Company, of New York City, satisfied with the big showing I made last season, have made arrangements with me to bunch together their entire line, comprising both home and foreign products, and offer the same at a big reduction. The Domestic goods will go for $12.50 per 2-piece suit, while every yard of the higher priced importations will go for $19.00 per 2-piece suit. This makes it a double sale and truly International. But please to remember that it makes no difference whether you select the highest priced Domestic suit or the highest priced Imported suit, it will go at the above prices.

EVERY SUIT In the HOME CLASS

$12.50

EVERY SUIT IN FOREIGN CLASS

$19.00

This is indeed a remarkable offer, particularly when you realize that the styles are the best that money can procure, and that every fabric is up to the minute in weave and shade. International tailoring is too well known in this town to need comment.

IN SOCIETY THE WEEK AT LUMBERTON

won by Mr. Donald MacRae, and the same was presented to him with appropriate remarks by one of the other club members. At the conclusion of the tournament a delicious luncheon was served. Misses Bessie and Elvina Burris and Mrs. Edward Jenner Wood being the charming hostesses. One of the largest crowds that has gathered at the Club this season was present, this being the final tournament.

Miss Lauriston Hardin returned Wednesday evening from Raleigh, where she has been visiting friends for the past several weeks.

Mr. Platt W. Davis, who recently spent several days in Philadelphia and other Northern cities, returned to the city during the past week.

Miss Ellen Baker, who has been the guest of Mrs. Thos. Phillip Hammer, on Carolina Heights, left during the past week for her home in Philadelphia, after a pleasant visit here of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chadbourne, Dr. and Mrs. Charles P. Bolles and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Stanley moved to Masonboro Sound during the past week, where they will spend a portion of the approaching summer.

Miss Annette Munds returned recently from the Greensboro State Normal, where she has been attending school. Miss Munds' many friends are delighted to see her in Wilmington again.

The departure of Mr. Glenn Kenly for Jacksonville, Fla., today, will cause regret to a large circle of friends here. Mr. Kenly goes to Jacksonville as the Tie and Timber Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line for the Third Division, and the change of positions is quite a promotion for him, necessitating his making Jacksonville permanent headquarters.

The many friends in this city of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Peschauer are glad to learn that they arrived during the past week from Wilson, and are guests at the home of Mrs. Peschauer's father, Captain Armand DeRosset, on South Second street. Mr. Peschauer expects to leave for Atlanta tonight, where they will make their home in the future, but Mrs. Peschauer's friends will be glad to learn that she will spend several weeks in Wilmington before leaving for Atlanta.

The Girls' Friendly Society of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd will give a "starlight excursion" on Tuesday evening, June 8th, on the steamer Wilmington, leaving the dock at foot of Market street promptly at 8 P. M., taking a delightful trip both up and down the Cape Fear. The fare for the trip will be 25 cents, and the outing will doubtless be a most enjoyable one. Refreshments will be served on the boat, and a large crowd will most probably take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy a pleasant evening on the river. The proceeds will be devoted to the charitable purposes of the Society, which fact alone should insure a financial success for the venture.

Lumina was the scene of another beautiful special dance on Monday evening last, when the "Butterfly Dance" was given, there being between seven hundred and a thousand spectators and dancers. During the evening, the genial "Mayor of Lumina," Captain Corbett, presented the participants with attractive souvenirs in the shape of butterfly hat pins, the gentlemen participating in the dance graciously presenting these useful articles to their respective partners. Tomorrow night will witness the much talked of Japanese dance, which will be elaborate and up to the usual standard of excellence adopted for these dances. The opening dance given on Thursday night was well attended in spite of the weather, and every night during the past week has witnessed large crowds at this popular pavilion. The opening of the Seashore Hotel on the 1st of June, and the opening of the Tarrymore, which will occur on the 10th, together with the number of residents who have moved to their homes on the beach and sounds near Wilmington indicate that Wrightsville's large season will soon be in full blast and the ocean scene of many a sporting event, canoe and swimming races, and other like sports.

HAVE YOU KIDNEY TROUBLE?
One of more of the following symptoms may indicate that you have: sharp shooting pains in the small of the back and loins, cloudy or smoky urine, whitish or reddish sediment in urine, too scanty, highly colored urine, bloody urine, too frequently desires, scalding or smarting pains in passing, irregular heart action, puffiness under the eyes, nervousness, restlessness, general debility, swelling of the lower limbs, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, gravel, etc. Rydale's Kidney Remedy is guaranteed to quickly relieve and permanently cure all forms of Kidney, Bladder and Urinary diseases. Sold and guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

Colds that hang on weaken the constitution and develop into consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar cures persistent coughs that refuse to yield to other treatment. Do not experiment with untried remedies as delay may result in your cold settling on your lungs. Robt. R. Bellamy.

The V. & C. S. Connection—Aged Negro Woman Cut—Cleaning-up Day—Orphans' Concert.

General Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, June 5.—The completion of the Virginia & Carolina Southern Railroad between this place and Hope Mills now gives us three distinct lines of railroads, something which many towns in the State cannot boast of. Lumberton is now an easy place to get away from, having two passenger trains daily north, south, east and west.

The Colonial Vaudeville Company filled an engagement at the opera house last night. The audience was not large but seemed to enjoy the show very much. A second performance will be given tonight.

Application was made yesterday for license for the marriage of two couples, both of which were refused on account of failure to satisfy the Registrar of Deeds as to ages.

There was a cutting affray in that part of town known as Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon in which Jennie Kelly, a colored woman, 68 years old, was terribly slashed by Ethel Moore, another colored woman. Dr. Knox, who was called to render surgical attention found it necessary to take 19 stitches in order to make the necessary repairs. The woman who did the cutting was put in jail.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week were the days appointed by Mayor Rowland for all citizens of the town owning lots to have a general cleaning up. We hope the order has been obeyed, for there is already much sickness reported through this section, though considerably more in the country than in town.

We are reliably informed that if the parties who own the old cross-ties scattered around between the freight and passenger stations will remove them so that the work can be done, the Seaboard will fill in and raise that part of the railroad yard, which will greatly improve the appearance of things in that section. During wet weather water frequently stands there, and by filling it in this would be all avoided. The ties do not belong to the railroad company, and it is hoped that the owners will make some disposition of them so that this needed improvement may be made.

This section has been visited by refreshing rains during the week and all crops are reported to be in fine condition.

Miss Winnie Rowland has been elected to succeed Miss McBrayer as teacher of the third grade in the Lumberton Graded School. Miss McBrayer was elected for the Fall term but after leaving for the summer vacation decided not to return and sent in her resignation. The trustees could not have made a wiser selection than that of Miss Rowland.

Trains are now running regular between Lumberton and Hope Mills, two trips being made each way daily. Connections are made at Hope Mills with Coast Line trains north and south. The fare from Lumberton to Hope Mills is 50 cents.

The Virginia & Carolina Southern has had a squad of convicts at work here this week, constructing a track from the main line to the Dresden Cotton Mill.

Quite a number of our people attended the horse races at Marion on Wednesday.

Dr. W. A. McPhaul, who left here first of the week to enter the hospital at Fayetteville, is reported to have a well developed case of typhoid fever, but is doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. T. W. Bullock and little daughter left this morning for Greensboro where they will spend some time visiting.

The Seaboard is advertising an excursion to be run to Washington City June 21st. The round trip fare from Lumberton will be $7.50.

Mr. Wallace Norment left this week for Durham to attend commencement at Trinity College.

Mr. P. Q. Weathersbee, agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., at this place, expects to bring his family from Wilmington next week, and in future make Lumberton their home. They will occupy one of Mr. G. G. French's houses on 2nd street.

Mrs. J. H. Wishart, who was called home from Shelby, where the family is spending the summer, on account of the critical illness of Mrs. Wade Wishart, has returned to Shelby.

The decree has gone forth—Lumberton dogs in the future must wear badges, leave town, or forfeit their lives. As a result of this order many worthless dogs will be leaving town.

Bishop Robert Strange, of Wilmington, who in the future must wear badge, left this morning for Greensboro, where he will spend the week, and his sermon was greatly enjoyed by those who had the pleasure of hearing him. Hereafter Rev. Mr. Cox, one of Wilmington's Episcopal ministers, will preach in Lumberton once a month.

Mr. J. W. Rowell, State Masonic lecturer, is spending several days in Lumberton. Mr. Rowell is no stranger to our people, having been a visitor here several times, and on each visit adds new friends to his already large list.

Dr. J. S. Norman, who was formerly connected with the McLean-Roxler drug store, is spending a few days in town. He will go next week to Chattanooga, Fla., where he will be assistant surgeon in the State hospital.

A. W. Rivenbark, the young man recently arrested at Hamlet and jailed here on the charge of swindling, was carried to Raleigh Thursday to stand trial in the United States Court. Judging from his appearance as he boarded the train, he did not seem to anticipate anything much ahead of him.

Lumberton Lodge No. 35, K. of P., will give a smoker in its lodge room Monday evening to which all Pythians will be cordially welcomed. Ex-Mayor F. R. McNinch, of Charlotte, is expected to be present and deliver an address. Refreshments will be served and a real good time is expected.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. J. McConnell, of Orrum, will preach at the Methodist church tomorrow morning. There will be no evening service.

One morning this week two lady shoppers came up on the early train and while they were purchasing five cents worth of lace the salesman's eyes fell on a negro in another part of the store stealing two packages of crackers valued at 10 cents. He left the lace customers to chase the crackers, but "they never came back."

The unveiling ceremonies which were conducted Monday at the grave of the late Mr. T. W. McHargue by the Woodmen of the World, were largely attended. The address was delivered by State Consul Head W. S. Charles, of Charlotte. The rural carriers who were in town that day attending a meeting of their association, attended in a body, Mr. McHargue having been a member before his death.

The Orphans' concert which was given at the opera house Monday night was witnessed by a very large crowd, and everyone present seemed to enjoy the exercises immensely. The ticket sales and contributions in cash amounted to over $200.

Engineer Wm. Daugherty, of the R. & C., was called to Asheville the first of the week on account of the illness of his father.

Mrs. Beckwith, who has resided here for several years with her son, Dr. R. B. Beckwith, left Thursday evening for Raleigh, where she will make her future home with a son, who resides in that city.

Tax lister G. T. Cox is doing business in the court house but his friends are slow in calling on him.

JAMES WATTS PRICE.

The death of Mr. James Watts Price, the young, noble, true, and patriotic citizen, who passed from this life to a higher one on yesterday, leaves all those who were fortunate enough to know him in a state of sadness. For to have known him was to love him. For ten years the writer had the pleasure of his most intimate acquaintance and notwithstanding his affliction of body, his mind was as bright as the glowing sun. To converse with him was great pleasure, as well as an inspiration.

Thirty-three years of such a life has not been lived in vain, for it has set an example that the young men of Wilmington could well afford to emulate. It is better to die at this young age with a life so well lived, than to live to be a centenarian with only the immediate family to mourn his departure.

The world has been made better owing to the fact that Jimmie Price lived in it, and his mother and noble grandfather while their heads are bowed in grief, yet they have the consolation of knowing that the entire community is sharing with them the sadness.

Diamond Dust

Jakey Atz is still playing the game with a broken digit.

Weldon Henley pitched, and won his first game for Rochester last week. George Mullin won the nine successive games he has pitched for Detroit this season.

Pitcher Nourse, of Brown, will join the Chicago Nationals at the close of the college season.

Brooklyn is lamenting the fact that Sebring has been out of the game for some time account of indisposition.

Major League scouts have their eyes on Hicks, Harvard's twirler, who held Virginia and Princeton without a hit. Rath has been shifted from 3rd sack to 2nd by Reading, and the change has not affected his clouting streak in the least.

"Pitcher Bussey," of Richmond, should be dubbed "Control," for he rarely ever walks a man. That's his strong point.—Sporting Life.

Tough Luck is after Columbus in the South Atlantic. In one day her second baseman broke his leg in play, and a pitcher fractured his ankle in the gym.

"Fleider" Jones, former star of the White Sox, according to report, has been offered $20,000 to give up his outside business and return to the diamond.

Report has it Cleveland has invited valeters on Veldet Slitton. The Doctor has hardly been given a chance to make good for he won the only full game he has heaved for the Naps.

Much interest is being manifested in the attempt to play the National game at night by means of an electric lighting system invented by George Cahill. The Cincinnati Park is being prepared for the experiment, and the first trial game will be played within the next few weeks.

On account of the noticeable decrease in batting within late years, President Johnson, of the American League, has induced J. R. Reach Co., its official sphere-makers, to experiment with a livelier ball, with sufficient rubber added to bring out the results desired without affecting fielding. The new ball will be tested by League teams in practice, and if found satisfactory will be speedily adopted.

Sporting Life of June 5th, says: "During the past week the National Commission judged a case involving charges of forgery against a club by a player—the first case of the kind to come before the 'Supreme Court of Base Ball.' Player W. L. McDonald, of the Spartanburg Club, of the Carolina Association, is the player involved, and his troubles are of his own making, as he opened the case by applying to the National Commission for release from the Spartanburg Club. In a sworn affidavit he contended that he reported to the Spartanburg Club in June, 1908, and played during that season without signing a contract. He contended further that he was not reserved and made no verbal agreement as to playing with that club in 1909. His principal contention, however, was that if the Spartanburg Club produced a contract containing his signature that it was a forgery and would be so found if compared with his signature attached to the affidavit. The Spartanburg Club submitted the player's contract properly signed and a comparison of the signature showed that it was the same as that appearing in the player's affidavit. That club also submitted affidavits signed by witnesses who saw the player sign his contract with the Spartanburg Club. Afterwards the player wrote the Commission stating that he was led into making charges against the club which were unfounded, and that he had agreed to withdraw such charges and report for duty. The National Commission has now suspended the player for three years."

DAILY NEWS TO START

Republican Paper in State Shortly to Resume Publication.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)
Greensboro, June 4.—Mr. Z. P. Smith, who has been elected editor and general manager of The Greensboro Daily News, which is to be the successor to The Daily Industrial News, announces that the new paper will make its appearance Sunday morning, July 18. It appears that the delay in starting the new paper has been occasioned by the fact that the promoters of the enterprise desire to be in better position financially than The Industrial News found itself when it began publication in October, 1905. It is said the new paper will start with a dollar's indebtedness and with a comfortable bank account. Editor Samuel Smith will be assisted in the conduct of the paper by Mr. Harrison Cruikshank, who will hold down the managing editor's desk, a position he occupied with The Industrial News.

"Shiny" Fat Folks

One of the fat woman's chief griefs in life is her shiny, greasy skin. If it be pimply besides, as it probably is (or may be), her cup of anguish is full. Powder and cosmetics simply hide these horrors for a season—a very short season. They are not a cure for them. There isn't any cure for them except getting rid of the grease beneath. When she does that she finds her complexion improves.

In this way only can I account for the clear, natural complexion acquired by those who use the Marmola receipt: One-half ounce Marmola, 1-2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 3-4 ounce Peppermint Water. By causing the excess flesh to be absorbed, it clears the blood of the globules of fat which, physicians say, cause the greasy, oily skin of the over-fat.

This simple receipt makes a mixture both pleasant and harmless. It causes neither wrinkles nor stomach disturbances. It is also quite inexpensive. Make it a point to try some; take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime for a week or two and see if your oily skin does not quickly disappear. As you lose your fat your complexion should progressively improve, and after a month or so, when you have lost 25 or 30 pounds of flesh, it should be nearly perfect.

Dear Sir:
Whatever may be your business, you cannot make progress without connecting with a banking institution offering facilities which will enable you to compete with other business men.

Many merchants and traders are handicapped because they do not enjoy the advantages offered by a modern banking service. A service in which the personal element is entirely eliminated, and each application or transaction is treated upon its business merit.

This institution is conducted upon the broad principle of having no favorites, and adhering strictly to the requirements of the United States Government, by which it is supervised. At the same time, the bank takes special interest in being of service and offering all legitimate encouragement to the small merchant, the young business man, and any worthy industry.

Your account would be welcomed, regardless of its size.

Yours truly,
THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK.

DIED IN GREENSBORO

Mr. John K. McIlhenny Passes Away

Relatives Here.

The announcement yesterday morning of the death of Mr. John K. McIlhenny, which occurred at his home in Greensboro, was received with much sorrow by his many friends in this city where he formerly resided. For several years he conducted a drug store on South Elm street in Greensboro, and enjoyed a splendid patronage.

The deceased was the oldest son of the late Colonel T. C. McIlhenny, a leading citizen of this city. He is survived by several children and two sisters, Mesdames Washington Catlett

day for Greensboro to attend the funeral, and two brothers, Messrs. Harry and Thomas C. McIlhenny, of this city.

o'clock, arrangements will be considered for a series of meetings in this city by Evangelist Porry, of London,

one of the most powerful evangelists in this country. The date for these meetings will be announced in the next few weeks. That the evangelist will be heard with much interest.

At the ministers meeting other matters will be discussed and Rev. W. E.

Hocutt, the secretary, requests a full attendance.

PROMINENT ITALIANS HERE

ing Development Company at St. Helena, near Burgaw, Mr. N. C. Adossides being the popular host. In the party is Miss Alice Bennett, a well known magazine writer. The members of the party arrived here late yesterday afternoon and were guests at The Orton for supper last night.

Excursion From Charlotte.

The first excursion of the season announced will arrive here over the Seaboard Air Line from Charlotte on Wednesday afternoon, June 16th, and the visitors will remain in the city and at the beach until the following

Friday morning at 9 o'clock. The fare for the round trip has been placed in the reach of all, $3, and it is expected that a very large crowd will take advantage of the cheap rate.

JAPANESE DANCE

Big Event Scheduled for Lumina—Two

Concerts Today.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the Japanese Dance which will be given at Lumina Tuesday night and which will be attended by many of the visiting surgeons of the Atlantic Coast Line as well as many beach visitors and city folks.

This afternoon and evening the public will have the opportunity of hearing the new Lumina orchestra of 10 pieces in concert. Splendid programmes have been arranged for both concerts, especially the one which will be given in the evening. A cornet solo will be given by Mr. Frank B.

Schirich at the evening concert. The concerts at Lumina this season will doubtless prove more popular than ever. One of the numbers for both concerts will be "Whispering Flowers," which is very popular in Wilmington.

FUNERAL OF MR. PRICE.

Last Sad Rites Held From Late Residence Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral services over the remains of Mr. James W. Price, whose sad death occurred Friday afternoon, were held from the family residence,

101 North Seventh street, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, conducted by Bishop Robert Strange. There was a large number of friends and relatives present, and the many beautiful floral designs attested the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Mayor Walter MacRae, Dr. M. H. P. Clark, Geo.

H. Howell, Esq., S. M. Emple, Esq.,

Messrs. J. B. Cooper and Jos. D.

Smith.

WIRELESS STATION HERE

Commercial Apparatus to be Installed.
Office Opened in Wilmington by Fiscal Agent For The State.
The Service.

A commercial wireless telegraph station for Wilmington is included in the plans of the United Wireless Telegraph Company for the present year, and an office of the company has just been opened in this city.

The Eastern operating department of that company, which has its headquarters in New York, has announced the placing of an order for 250 complete sets of wireless instruments, all of which it is said will be installed at stations to be established during 1909 in cities east of the Mississippi river, requiring an expenditure of $500,000.

Besides the station at Wilmington, others are to be established in North Carolina at Newbern, Raleigh, Greensboro, Charlotte, Asheville, Henderson and Winston-Salem. The company already has stations at Elizabeth City and Cape Hatteras, and the United States Government operates a wireless station at Beaufort.

The wireless station to be established here will probably be one of the long distance kind, of from 5 to 29 K. W., which will transmit long distance messages, under all conditions of weather, for a range of from 500 to 2,000 miles overland and from 1,000 to 3,000 miles over the water. Many of the inland stations will be smaller, with from 100 to 200 miles range, but it is the policy of the United Wireless Telegraph Company to erect the most powerful stations along the coast on account of the fact that wireless operates on sea as well as on land, and the Wilmington station will keep in constant touch both with the inland and with ships at sea. The operating department, it is announced, is now organizing its forces to begin the selection of locations for the new stations in the cities included in the year's programme.

The United Wireless Telegraph Company now has 57 land stations on the Atlantic, Pacific, the Great Lakes and Gulf coasts, and a system consisting of service on 54 boats of 43 steamship lines, all in full operation, and growing rapidly. In addition to this the United States Government has 44 land stations, and has equipped all the first-class battleships and Revenue cutters with wireless stations aboard ship, as well as using small wireless sets in the army corps. The Revenue cutter Seminole, stationed here, is equipped with one of the United Company's wireless sets.

Mr. W. E. Duncan representing the United Wireless Telegraph Company, is now located in Wilmington, with an office in the Murchison National Bank Building, and is the fiscal agent for the State of North Carolina.

ATHLETIC MEET A SUCCESS

Event at Beach Yesterday Well Attended—Names of the Winners.

The athletic meet at the Beach yesterday, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., directed by Secretary Edwin Kettle, while something rather unusual of an athletic nature, proved attractive and was a fine success, well attended and enjoyed by a large crowd. Good records were made by the young athletes and the meet was participated in by a large class of seniors and juniors of the Association. The spectators assembled at Lumina, where they witnessed the finals of the various events, and had a good view of each while in progress. There will be a similar event at the Beach in July.

The winners and the events given according to contestant's standing at the finals of each, are as follows:

Seniors, mile race—James Gilbert, Owen Fillyaw, A. H. Williams. Five contestants.

Seniors, half mile race—James Gilbert, A. H. Williams, C. L. Delamar. Five contestants.

Seniors, running broad jump—A. H. Williams, James Gilbert, John Clowe. Six contestants.

Seniors, putting shot—A. H. Williams, Owen Fillyaw, James Gilbert. Four contestants.

Seniors, three-legged race—Owen Fillyaw, James Gilbert, won from Joe Clowe and J. H. Williams.

Seniors, standing board jump—James Gilbert, Owen Fillyaw, C. L. Delamar. Six contestants.

Juniors, half mile—Geo. Bornemann, Wm. Walker, Sallie Hubbard. Six contestants.

Juniors, 75-yards—James Taylor, Earle Hubbard, Joe LeMoyné. Eight contestants.

Juniors, running board jump—Geo. Bornemann, Earle Hubbard, Joe LeMoyné.

Juniors, potato race—Kenneth Davis, William Walker, Geo. Bornemann.

Juniors, human race—James Taylor, Charles Jacobs, Norman Davis. Six contestants each in the three last events.

Seaboard Week-End Rates.

The Seaboard Air Line railroad announces attractive week-end rates from points on its line to Wilmington and return for this season and will have the effect of increasing the number of visitors that annually sojourn at the beaches around Wilmington. The sale of the week-end tickets began on May 28th and will be offered until September 4th. From Charlotte the road announces a rate of $5, tickets for sale Friday afternoon, good on all trains Saturday and Sunday with return limit Tuesday. Rates quoted from other towns beyond Charlotte are: Lincolnton, $5.50; Rutherfordton, $5.50; Shelby, $5.50; Bostic, $5.50.

Mr. Benjamin Burlington Dead.
A telegram was received here yesterday morning announcing the death at the State Hospital of Mr. Benjamin Burlington, who was recently sent to that institution for treatment. Mr. Burlington had been in declining health for some time. The interment will probably occur in Raleigh as the deceased had no near relatives here.

PYTHIANS GO TO MOUNTAINS

Wilmington Will Send Large Delegation to Grand Lodge Meeting in Hendersonville This Week.
Want Next Meeting.

Wilmington will send a large delegation to the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of North Carolina, which convenes in Hendersonville Tuesday night for a three days' session, and the local Pythians go with the determination to bring the 1910 gathering to Wilmington. The party will leave here over the Coast Line at 3:10 Monday afternoon in a chartered Pullman car going by way of Columbia.

While the Pullman will be occupied mostly by delegates from Wilmington prominent Pythians will join the party from Lumberton, Clarkton, Council's, Cronly, Rose Hill, Wallace, Burgaw, Southport, Chadbourne, Whiteville and at Florence, Hon. Thos. H. Webb, Grand Chancellor, and Messrs. Clifford and Holt will board the train. It is probable that another Pullman car will be required to accommodate the crowd.

Among those in the delegation from Wilmington will be Past Grand Chancellors Robertson, Haar and Meares, Col. Walker Taylor, chairman of the judicial committee; State Deputy Grand Chancellor James D. Nutt, and the delegates from the four local lodges, J. D. Kelly, Stonewall; J. L. Lennon, Clarendon; W. P. McLaughlin, Jefferson; S. Behrends, Germania, and Archie Fryar, Delgado.

The headquarters of the Grand Lodge will be at the Wheeler House. The first session will be held Tuesday night and from then until the closing session on Thursday the moments will be busy ones for the delegates for there are several matters of vital importance to be considered, among the most conspicuous being the location of the orphanage to be established by the Grand Lodge. The committee has recommended the selection of Durham, but there are other places whose claims are being vigorously urged.

The local delegation feels confident that it will be able to persuade the members to hold the next gathering in this city. They go armed with invitations from the commercial bodies and from Mayor MacRae and will put up such a fight on the floor of the convention that will be hard to resist.

ORGANIZATION MEETING

Formation of "Greater Wilmington Club" Tuesday Night.
The organization meeting of the "Greater Wilmington Club" will be held in the Court House Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The committee of fifteen met at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon for the purpose of receiving and passing upon the report of the committee of three selected last Monday to draft a constitution and by-laws and make recommendations to the larger body.

The club grows in favor as the days go and come and nearly 500 prominent citizens have pledged themselves to become members. The promoters of the club will not rest on their oars until 1,000 names have been secured. It is believed that number can be secured in the short time.

The question of a suitable name for the club is being freely discussed and many suggestions are being made. Any suggestions of name should be sent to Woodus Kellum, Esq., who will report at the organization meeting, when the selection will be made.

ARTILLERY MANEUVERS

Battalion of Reserves From Guard Leave for Caswell Tomorrow.

The four companies of the State National Guard, composing the Artillery Reserves, Wilmington, Newbern, Greensboro and Salisbury, will leave tomorrow for Fort Caswell where they will engage in the maneuvers prescribed by the War Department for ten days. The W. L. I. will leave at 10:30 A. M. on the steamer Southport; the Newbern company at 2:30 on the steamer Wilmington, arriving at 1:25 P. M. and the Greensboro and Salisbury companies, arriving at 6 P. M. on the steamer Wilmington at 6:30 P. M. Major Max L. Barker will be in command and among his staff will be Capt. Dodameade, Marrow and Lieutenant J. Holmes Davis. Captain Cox, quartermaster of the battalion, will arrive today and go down to the post to have everything in readiness for the coming of the Reserves, a detail from the Wilmington company accompanying him.

HOFFMAN STEAM PRESSER.

New and Valuable Machine Installed by Eureka Pressing Club.

The Eureka Pressing Club, No. 11 Princess street, has just installed one of the latest machines for pressing clothes of all kind, at the same operation cleaning and sterilizing them with pure, live steam without danger to the fabric. The machine was only recently patented and carries a steam boiler, a presser and perforations for thoroughly fumigating and driving all the dust from the garment. The steam is generated by gas and is applied with an even slow pressure that gives the very best results. The Club can now turn out work much more quickly but in much better condition at no advance in prices. Only white help and experts are now employed and the Eureka promises to be more popular than ever.

Played Game at Wrightsboro.

The original Brooklyn baseball team, which was a member of the City League last year, defeated the Wrightsboro team on the latter's ground yesterday, by a score of 4 to 1. It was a good game and there were quite a few to witness the contest. The batteries were Motte and Schuklen, for Brooklyn, and Selter and Williams for the opposing team.

THE SUPERIOR COURT.

May Term for Trial of Civil Cases Ended Yesterday Afternoon.

The May term of New Hanover Superior Court for the trial of civil cases adjourned at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Judge W. R. Allen, who presided, left last night for his home in Goldsboro. The time of the court yesterday was taken up with the hearing of the motion docket and the signing of judgments.

Keenan & Herring made a motion to restore to citizenship John Williams, colored, an ex-convict who desired his pilot's license renewed and which was opposed by Herbert McClammy, Esq., Judge Allen denied the motion. In the matter of C. S. Riley & Co. against W. T. Sears & Co. a motion was made argued and the case was continued until the July term of court.

In the case of J. W. Little, administrator, against Frank Hill, et al., tried a few days ago and a verdict given in favor of the plaintiff, L. C. Grant, Esq., counsel for defendant, moved that the verdict be set aside. The motion was opposed by Hon. John D. Bellamy, counsel for the plaintiff. Judge Allen allowed a non-suit and the action will come up before the Clerk of the Superior court for adjustment. Counsel for the plaintiff made a motion to set aside the verdict in the case of Julia Austin against C. D. Gore on the ground of insufficient evidence. Motion was denied and the matter was left in the hands of the Clerk of Court for adjustment. Judge Allen signed a judgment in the case of V. C. Bordeaux against J. C. Walton, et al., in which the plaintiff won his suit for the possession of 260 acres of land near Castle Haynes. The defendants moved for a new trial which was denied. The case will likely go to the Supreme Court. Just before adjournment a motion was made to set aside the verdict of the jury in the case of P. F. Fostage against J. L. Gorman. The motion was overruled.

Real Estate Transfers.
Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Edward H. Kidder, of New York; Geo. W. Kidder, of Wilmington, and Gilbert P. Kidder, of Seattle, Wash., trustees of the estate of the late Edward Kidder, to Thomas H. Wright, for $1 and other considerations, lot on corner of Princess and 13th streets; Wrightsville Beach Suburban Development Company to Thomas W. Davis, for $1,100 building and lot on Wrightsville Beach, intersection of suburban line and Arringdale street, together with all household and kitchen furniture in the building; J. O. Carr, commissioner, to Thomas H. Wright, for $400 lot on north side of Harnett, 37 feet and six inches east of Sixth street, being 37x75 feet in size.

Good Week For Collections.
During the five days of June just passed between $6,000 and $7,000 in special license taxes were collected at the Sheriff's office which beats the record of any former year. There is only a small amount remaining to be collected and the Sheriff expects to wind up Monday or Tuesday. The professional men, lawyers, physicians and dentists, and automobile owners, cigarette dealers, brokers and commission merchants are paying up very slowly. As court is over the sheriff expects to send out several deputies tomorrow to see the delinquents. Practically all of the pool table owners and beer-dealers have conformed with the law.

Masquerading as Man, Charged.
Annie Lowe, colored, whom the police were called upon to protect from the expected attacks of an organized band of colored people because she had informed the officers of violations of the prohibition law, was before Justice Bornemann yesterday afternoon on two charges. It was charged that she went to the home of Lula Reeves, colored, a few nights ago, attired in man's garb and when refused admittance broke in the house, Lula Reeves also swore out a peace warrant against her. In the trespass case the defendant was fined $4 and taxed with the costs and the peace warrant was continued until tomorrow.

Parson Indicted by Wife.
Insisting that her husband cared more for other female members of his congregation than he did for her and that recently he had not shown her the proper respect, even threatening her on several occasions, Louise Nixon, colored, had the Rev. W. D. Nixon before Justice Bornemann yesterday on a peace warrant. The justice heard the appeal of the forsaken wife and placed the parson under a bond of $50 to keep the peace for a period of two months. The parson seemed to be anxious for a separation and agreed verbally to give his wife $2.50 a week for her support.

Death of Colored Man.
Austin Middleton, a colored drayman, who has been employed at different times by several well known wholesalers on the wharf, died at his home No. 912 Castle street Friday morning at 10 o'clock. He was a faithful colored man, well thought of by the white people, among those he worked for being Messrs. Willard, D. L. Gore and W. B. Cooper. He was a member of the I. O. O. G. S. lodge and the funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Tax Listing Slow.
It is stated from the office of Tax Lister Bunting that the citizens of Wilmington township have been rather slow the past week in listing their property for taxes. Quite a large number called on the first day but since then the clerks have had but little work to occupy their time. It is urged that the citizens list their taxes as early as possible to avoid the rush toward the end of the month. The office is in the basement of the Court House.

Bids For Firemen's Uniform.
The Police and Fire Commission is advertising for bids for furnishing the city fire department 37 suits of clothes made of Oatwey 13 or 14 ounce serge and the same number of caps of the standard fire department design. Bids will be received at the office of Chairman W. E. Springer until noon, Monday, June 14th.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Troy Montgomerian: Moore county has contracted with Francis Deaton to make a county map the price being $500, $100 of which is paid by Mr. Tafts, the millionaire, who owns the town of Pinehurst.

—Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer: A week ago yesterday a fine crop of oats was standing in a field on Solicitor Robinson's farm in the eastern suburbs of the town. Since that time the oats have been harvested, hauled in and cotton seed planted where stood the grain, and now the cotton is breaking through the ground, coming to a perfect stand.

—Lenoir Topic: Squire J. O. Dula has secured the services of Mr. Bye, of Baltimore, to develop his mining interests in the Baker gold mine, near Lenoir. Mr. Bye began work last week and he is finding, in abundance, gold, silver, copper, lead and asbestos. Mr. Bye has plenty of capital behind him, and it is gratifying to learn from Squire Dula that the work of development of the mine will be pushed.

—Stanley Enterprise: Some three or four years ago a local firm was selling each year upon the local market between forty and fifty thousand bushels of corn. Two weeks ago the same firm advertised through those columns for 1,000 bushels of corn. Treble this amount was brought in by the farmers from every direction. The incident brings to light the fact that but little shipped corn is now sold upon the local market and that our farmers have been frugal in keeping their home granaries supplied.

—Rocky Mount, June 4.—The session of Halifax county Superior Court yesterday, after the taking of the testimony of Mrs. Merritt, postponed the case against C. Vanlanghan, who has been held in jail under a bond of $10,000 for shooting Mr. Levy Merritt several weeks ago. The man was arrested immediately after the shooting, but the wife of the murdered man testified that the shooting was in self-defense, and the charges were dismissed; however, it developed that her testimony had been fixed up under a promise of the burial expenses, and for support for the remainder of her life. However, the murderer did not measure up to what he had promised and the woman later told a story that caused his re-arrest. The case was postponed until the August session of court, which begins on the 23rd of that month. The case was one of the most horrible that has come before the eyes of the public within the past several years in this section.

—Wilson, June 4.—Not long since Mr. Waldo F. Woodard appeared before the commissioners of Wilson county, advocating the building of a mile of sand and clay road in order to demonstrate the practicability of further continuing the work and establishing them over the entire county, should the initial mile prove up to what is claimed for it. W. L. Banks, chairman of the board, took the matter up with the proper authorities in Washington, and expects an expert road builder from that city to begin the work at an early day. The Government estimates the cost of building such roads at from $200 to $300 per mile, according to the amount of grading required and the distance the clay and sand would have to be hauled. Since Wilson county is level, and clay and sand in abundance, the cost here should be the minimum. The cost of macadam averages some $4,000 per mile.

—Charlotte, June 4.—D. A. Hurley, the young society man indicted by the grand jury for assaulting his wife with a pistol at the rooms of the couple in a hotel here, has been placed under a bond of $500, which was immediately furnished by Hurley's attorney, a true bill having been brought in by the grand jury the case has been placed on the criminal docket for a hearing at the next term of criminal court for Mecklenburg county. The witnesses named on the indictment coming from the grand jury room included three ladies, one being Mrs. Katherine Jordan Hurley, wife of the defendant, the others being members of Charlotte's leading families. In the case of the last two it is assumed that they are the friends to whom Mrs. Hurley related the story of her narrow escape shortly before her departure for New York to be with her mother, Mrs. W. T. Jordan. Mr. Hurley, it is understood, is still under treatment in a hospital in the city and it is generally conceded that his mental condition at the time of the shooting resulting from over-drinking, caused the assault. This closes for the present the first chapter in this sensational episode. Many believe that those most concerned will not push the prosecution when the case comes up for final disposition.

—Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer: Anson Superior Court for the trial of civil cases will convene Monday. There are quite a number of cases on the calendar but it is likely that the only case of general interest that will be tried is that of Mrs. Reddie A. Kiker and husband, J. B. Kiker, of Burnsville township, against Drs. R. Armfield and M. Brooks, of Union county. This case is likely to be hard fought and as the defendants are both well known physicians of our sister county, the outcome will be watched with interest. Mrs. Kiker alleges in her complaint that Drs. Armfield and Brooks were called to see her a year ago last August and that because of malpractice on their part her child died, underwent great pain and danger. It is also alleged in the complaint that the physicians were under the influence of drugs and liquor at the time of the alleged malpractice. Drs. Armfield and Brooks emphatically deny every material allegation in the complaint and say that their treatment of Mrs. Kiker was in every respect proper and according to the best practice of their profession. Robinson & Caudle and Mr. J. T. Bennett will appear for the defendants. The plaintiffs are represented by McLendon & Thomas.

—Statesville, June 4.—As was expected about 150 or more citizens attended the government's auction sale of untax-paid booze which had been seized by revenue officers and turned over to Collector George H. Brown here. The sale was held under the supervision of Deputy Collector Davis and Postmaster J. W. C. Long was auctioneer. It is fittingly said that some of those present at the sale were only spectators, of course; others were there to buy some of the remedy for medical purposes only; others wanted to buy because they like the ardent at all times and seasons; others wanted to buy but didn't have the price, while still others were present with the hope of getting a free drink. A small sample was passed around, but only a mere smell was allowed the prospective customers. The 16 gallons of peach brandy, which had been seized in Alexander county, was in gallon packages and sold from $4 to $4.10 per gallon, while the eleven gallons of corn liquor sold readily for from $3 to $4 per gallon. "And it is said, too, that the booze was of an inferior quality. It is suggested that if the government would go into the business of selling whiskey in dry territory it would soon have so much money that the tariff could be greatly reduced. Many people insist that the government should take the booze to wet territory before offering it for sale, but Uncle Sam has supreme power and will do as he pleases.

MISSIONARY MEETING ENDS

Concluding Sessions at Louisville. Features of the Conference.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Louisville, N. C., June 4.—The Woman's Home Missionary Society again had full sessions yesterday and many features of the work were brought forward. Several delegates and visitors, and one officer, the latter Mrs. R. O. Burton, of Raleigh, editor of the Home Mission Department of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, were present. Rev. W. F. Craven was introduced to the Conference and made a speech of greeting to the Society.

The afternoon session was given to addresses and discussions on the rescue work; the needs of the South and West and how the Home Mission Society is trying to supply these needs by the "extra dollar" as it is called. Many of these were very interesting, especially the practical talk of Miss Lizzie Davis. The corresponding secretary's report also showed a good increase in all forms of work of that of last year.

Last night the Children's Brigade work was exemplified by Mrs. J. A. Splier and her little friends and delegates and were greatly enjoyed by all present. The rain interfered with this for the first time during the Conference, but did not keep many away. Expressions of delight and interest are heard on every hand, concerning the interest of the Conference and the kindness of our hosts.

Today the reports will be concluded and tonight we are to have what will doubtless be the cream of the Conference, an address on "The Frontier," the latest book in the reading course by Mrs. R. B. John.

Mrs. Davis, the mother of our beloved deaconess, Miss Lizzie Davis, who is at the head of the Rescue Work at Tampa, Fla., has been a welcome visitor to the Conference.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Asthma, Croup and Whooping Cough its supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and a severe female weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after three months' use of them," Mrs. S. A. Williams, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial. This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and renewer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial. Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

SOME SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES VIEW OF THE CANAL ZONE

Reports to Manufacturers' Record Show Industrial Revival at Many Places—Many New Enterprises Are Reported.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Baltimore, June 3.—During the past week there have been hundreds of industrial undertakings and municipal plans reported to the Manufacturers' Record. It is of interest to refer briefly to the more important announcements, which were as follows:

Charles E. Willis, who has been for some months investigating coal and iron properties near Pinecastle, has joined with New York parties in the incorporation of the Catawba Coal & Iron Co., with capital stock of $2,500,000 to develop the coal and iron in 8,000 acres of land. The Florida Power Co., Ocala, Fla., is constructing its proposed water power electric plant to transmit 3,000 horse power by electricity and to cost about $500,000. A $300,000 company has been organized at Stockdale, Tex., to build a cotton seed and peanut oil mill, G. P. Barber being general manager. The Hampton Roads Cutlery Co., organized with $100,000 capital to build a manufacturing plant. The City of New Orleans awarded a contract for power to cost $500,000. The Interstate Power Co., Elberton, Ga., was incorporated with $200,000 capital. R. G. Peters, of Manatee, Mich., purchased control of the Silver Creek Furnace Co., Rome, Ga., and will enlarge the plant, besides planning to manufacture car wheels. The Steel Fireproofing Co., Glenova, W. Va., incorporated with $200,000 capital to establish a manufacturing plant. Jacksonville Gas Co., Jacksonville, Fla., is to spend $250,000 for a manufacturing plant. Sun Flower Compress Co., Indianola, Miss., was incorporated with $30,000 capital. Farmersville Ice Co., Farmersville, Tex., was incorporated with $25,000 capital. The Black Springs Lumber Co., Womble, Ark., is to build a mill with daily capacity of 25,000 feet of lumber. The Farmers' Fertilizer Co., Godwin, Tenn., was incorporated with $100,000 capital. Hannah Pickett Mills, Rockingham, N. C., is issuing bonds for $70,000 to build an addition. The city of Lynchburg, Va., is having plans prepared for a $54,000 market house. The Moore Milling Co., Chillicothe, Tex., incorporated with $40,000 capital. The Crystal Ice Co., Orangeburg, S. C., was incorporated with $100,000 capital. The City of Lawton, Okla., awarded contract for street paving to cost $240,000. The Globe Manufacturing Co., Gaffney, S. C., awarded contract for erection of addition and will install 4,000 spindles. The Donaldsonville Oil Mill, Donaldsonville, Ga., awarded contract for oil mill and fertilizer factory to cost $38,000. The State Roads Commission, Baltimore, Md., is inviting bids for construction of 19 miles of roads. The Imperial Cotton Mills, Eatonton, Ga., was incorporated with $150,000 capital. The Rockwood Hosiery Mills, Rockwood, Tenn., increased its capital by $25,000 to enlarge its plant. The United States Government is inviting bids for construction of barracks, etc., at Fort Sill, Okla., the cost being estimated at over $400,000. The Chickasha Hydro-Electric Power Co., Chickasha, Okla., was incorporated with $100,000 capital. The Jefferson Power & Improvement Co., Jefferson, Okla., was incorporated with $100,000 capital. The Pike County Water Power Co., Murfreesboro, Ark., is planning to construct plant to transmit over 20,000 horse power by electricity. The Newbern Power Co., Newbern, N. C., was incorporated with $500,000 capital. The Broad River Granite Co., Elberton, Ga., was organized with $100,000 capital. The County Commissioners, Rocky Mount, Va., awarded contract for $25,000 courthouse.

MERCHANT TAILORING EVENT

Another Big Sale of Imported and Domestic Fabrics at I. Shrier's is Announced to Begin Tomorrow—International Affair.

An announcement of more than passing interest to the clothes-buying public of Wilmington and this section may be found in a page advertisement of Mr. I. Shrier, the "old reliable" clothier at northeast corner of Front and Princess streets, elsewhere in today's paper.

It is truly an "International" affair for two reasons—the goods offered are both foreign and domestic and the great "International" Tailoring Co., of New York and Chicago, will make them up. Hundreds of Wilmington people remember pleasantly a similar sale conducted last year. This season the bargains are even more extraordinary and include both the American woolsens and the finer textures of the imported product. For a limited time only, Mr. Shrier will offer the best made two-piece suit ever shown in Wilmington at $12.50 from the Domestic goods and $19 for imported goods. This is indeed a remarkable offer, considering style and quality and as the sale begins tomorrow, there will be a rush all the week at this popular Wilmington store, where thousands of samples await the prospective purchaser and absolute fit and styles are guaranteed. International Tailoring is well known in Wilmington and Mr. Shrier was fortunate by personal acquaintance with the head of the house in securing an offer from the International people to take the entire line of samples from the house and offer them here at these extraordinary values. The sale will be absolutely cash and no goods will be charged. This is the secret of the low prices and customers are asked not to request a violation of the rule. Remember the date, Monday, June 7th, and the place, I. Shrier's, Northeast corner of Front and Princess streets.

Mr. R. H. Rees Writes Interestingly to Friend in Wilmington—Something of the Climate and People in New Country.

Mr. R. H. Rees, formerly of this city, now at Las Cascadas, Canal Zone, has written interestingly to a friend in Wilmington in regard to affairs on the isthmus. He says that he is pleasantly situated with full charge of the store there and an assistant to help him. He is a watch inspector on the Panama railroad and the Isthmian Canal Commission road also and the demand is for the highest class of work. Las Cascadas is 32 miles from Colon and is nice and cool; no day in the year that the weather is as hot as in Wilmington in July; nights are invariably cool and one has to have a good, heavy comfort at night. The country is all mountainous and the canal runs from Colon southeasterly to Panama on the Pacific side. The canal will be 45 miles long and is as crooked as a "dog's hind leg," says Mr. Rees; in fact a succession of letter "S's" and the railroad runs along the bank and crosses it about eight miles from Panama. The climate is splendid, five months dry and seven months wet. Vegetation is very rank and dense. Where the ground is not cleared away for the railroad and canal, it is a dense jungle that one cannot see or get through except where trails have been cut by natives. It is a wall of growth and one cannot cut 20 feet into it with an axe in half a day. The Americans, he says, certainly had a hard job of it when they first came down, swamps, jungles and yellow fever. Now the zone is absolutely healthy and free from yellow fever, a case not having occurred for over two years. Colon was a filthy, slimy mud flat, reeking with pestilence and fever; no sidewalks or any kind of pavements in the city, mud everywhere. Today all streets are paved and cement sidewalks and Front street, the main thoroughfare, is paved with vitrified brick same as Market and Princess streets in Wilmington. The streets are straight and clean; sidewalks rather narrow but good. The town was built on a mud island. Cristobal, the American town, joins Colon at the edge of the zone, and is a dream. It is semi-circular in shape; the streets and the walks are lined with palms and cocoanuts. Houses are all screened and sanitation is perfect, while Colon has no screens, but is free from mosquitos and but a few flies to bother. Panama, pronounced with an accent on the last syllable, on the other hand is located on a narrow strip of land running out into the Pacific ocean, about half a mile wide at the end and gradually widening toward the hills, for it is very hilly on the Pacific side, and built right on a rock. Streets are very crooked and run in all directions and at every angle, scarcely any sidewalks at all and none more than three feet wide; no screens but down town streets are paved with brick, thanks to the Americans again. When they first came the city was a pest hole, no sanitation nor anything to make life desirable. Today it is clean and lighted and sanitary conditions good.

The American town here is Ancon, and is built around the hill of Ancon, facing terrace above is a beautiful place indeed, as the roads are lined with palms, trees and flowers, and spotlessly clean, all houses screened of course. Panama is warm but Ancon is cool and nice. Here is situated the immense Ancon hospital, free to all employees, a very large institution with wards of large proportions scattered about. Here are treated people of all nations, for there are Greeks, Italians, Spaniards, negroes, East Indians, Panamanians, Germans and Americans. Ancon is the finest and largest hospital in the world and has absolutely the best doctors in the world, writes Mr. Rees. All this is absolutely free to all employees of the government. As an annex to Ancon there is a convalescing hospital at the island of Tobago, just a few miles off shore, where convalescent patients are sent for rest and to get the sea breeze.

Las Cascadas, Empire and Culebra are on the backbone of the isthmus and are each two miles apart, station to station. Empire is the largest place after Colon, Cristobal and Panama, and is quite a business centre. Culebra is Col. Goethal's residence and head office of the zone for he is head of the Commission and president of the P. R. R. Towns are very close together all the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There are 5,000 or 6,000 Americans on the zone, a few Martiniquans, Barbadians, Antiguans, Greeks, Italians, East Indians and thousands of Jamaicans, who are the most worthless, lying and deceitful on earth. "I loathe and detest a Jamaican nigger beyond expression as does every American on the isthmus," says Mr. Rees.

HOW TO GAIN HEALTHY FLESH.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company Advise Use of Samose.

While thinness may not be a disease, yet it is in reality a condition that needs attention. Under the nourishing power of Samose healthy, natural flesh will soon be attained.

This remarkable flesh-forming food strengthens the system generally and builds up the fleshy tissues so that good, natural plumpness results.

An ounce of flesh is better than a pound of theory. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. believes that the best possible demonstration of the flesh-forming powers of Samose is to have it tried by his customers, and to induce them to use it, he offers to pay for the Samose in case it does not give satisfaction. No stronger proof than this can be given of their faith in it. They have seen hundreds who were weak, thin and scrawny, become plump, robust and strong, solely through the use of Samose.

If you are thin or in poor health, take advantage of this offer. You run no risk whatever, and the chances are 98 out of 100 that you will notice a gain in weight after using Samose for a week or tendays.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—John Gale is a trader at Flambeau, a rough outpost of civilization in Alaska. His daughter Necla is a beautiful young girl, generally believed to be a half breed, daughter of Gale and the Indian squaw Alluna, with whom he lives. Some hidden burden weighs continually on the trader's mind, and he views with apprehension the arrival of a squad of soldiers at Flambeau. "That means the law," he says uneasily to Necla, who has become acquainted with and admired by Lieutenant Burrell, commander of the soldiers. II—It becomes known that Napoleon Roret, an honest, faithful French Canadian employed by Gale, is deeply in love with Necla. One Runkon, a dissolute gambler and "bad man," arrives at Flambeau by steamer and in a fight with Burrell is worsted and forced to leave the town. On the departing steamer's deck he menacingly says, "I will return to take a hand in the game." III—Doret gives Necla a handsome silk gown brought by him from Dawson City for her. Arrayed in this, she meets Lieutenant Burrell, who falls madly in love with her, and he wonders if her blood is really tainted. Gale re-asserts that she is the illegitimate daughter of himself and the squaw. IV—Runkon returns with Ben Stark, a professional gambler and man killer with plenty of money. Stark builds a saloon and dance hall at Flambeau. "No Creek" Lee discovers gold in a valley some miles distant, and Necla persuades Burrell to take her there and locate a claim for her, their trip requiring a day and a night in the forest. V, VI and VII—Gale, Lee, Runkon and Stark have gone together to the site of Lee's discovery to locate claims. They are met by Necla and Burrell, and a bitter quarrel ensues. Runkon and Stark conspire to rob Necla of her claims. Runkon wants the girl, and Stark finds that Necla has a strange, unexplainable fascination for him. His baby daughter had been stolen years before. Burrell becomes the declared enemy of both Stark and Runkon. A gun held by Gale is discharged, the bullet accidentally, he claims, narrowly missing Stark. VIII—Gale knows Stark to be an old enemy of his father and Necla, and Alluna, his squaw, says: "Kill Stark. Take the knife of my father. To kill is the law." IX, X, XI, XII and XIII—Necla, believing herself a half-breed, fears she cannot marry Burrell, whom she loves, as she learns that her tainted blood will bar her from meeting the people he naturally associates with, and she overhears Burrell say he may not marry her after all. Stark persuades her to leave Flambeau after he discovers her to be his daughter.

A low, discordant sound of laughter arrested his words, and, turning, he beheld Necla standing revealed in the dimness.

"What an amusing person you are!" she said. "I've had hard work holding in all this time while you were torturing your mind and twisting the honest English language out of shape and meaning. I knew I should have to laugh sooner or later. That's your Dixie chivalry, I suppose. Well, I've played with you long enough, Lieutenant Burrell. I'm tired of the game, and you interest me no longer."

"You—you say you've been playing with me?" stammered the man. The bottom of things seemed suddenly to slide from under him. He was like one sinking in some hideous quagmire. He felt as if he were choking.

"Why, of course," she cried scornfully, "just as you took me up for amusement. You were such a fine, well dressed, immaculate mound of conceit that I couldn't resist the temptation, and you hid your condescension so poorly that I thought you ought to be taken down a peg. I knew I was a squaw, but I wanted to see if I were not like other women, after all, and if you were not like other men." She was talking rapidly now, almost shrilly, for she had never attempted to act before, while he stood dazed and speechless, fumbling at his throat while she railed at him. "You needn't waste time debating whether I'm good enough for you, because I'm not—decidedly I'm not your kind, and you are a joke to me."

He uttered an inarticulate cry, but she ran on heedless, her eyes wide and glowing like coals, her lips chalk white. "You see, it's time I stopped such foolishness anyhow, for I'm to be married on Sunday."

"You are going to be married?" he muttered laboriously.

"Yes, to Poleon. Why, that's been understood for years."

He whirled upon the Canadian in a fury, and his words came hot and tumbling.

"Don't blame him!" cried the girl hysterically. "It is all my doing. He had no part in it."

"Yes," said Doret in a restrained voice, "dis ain' no work of mine."

"You're a liar!" breathed the Kentuckian, now fairly wild with anger, but the other looked him squarely between the eyes and made no move.

"M'sieu," he cried, "I'm livin' forty year an' never took no nam' lak dat before, but dere's reason here w'y I can't mak' no answer."

"Why, you aren't really angry, Lieutenant?" mocked Necla. "It's only the joke of an ignorant half breed girl whose sense of humor is all out of gear. You mustn't quarrel over a squaw!"

She taunted him like a baited badger, for this thing was getting beyond her control, and the savage instincts of the wilderness were uppermost.

"You are quite right," he replied. "I am very foolish, and the laugh is with you." His lips tried to frame a smile, but failed. He bowed low and, turning, walked out.

The moment he was gone she cried breathlessly:

"You must marry me, Poleon. You've got to do it now!"

"Do you mean dat for sure?" he said. "Can't you see there's nothing else for it after this? I'll show him that he can't make me a toy to suit his convenience. I've told him I would marry you on Sunday, and I'll do it or die. Of course you don't love me, for you don't know what love is, I suppose. How could you?" She broke down and began to catch her breath amid coughing sobs that shook her slender body, though they left her eyes dry and feverish. "I—I'm very unhappy, but I'll be a good—wife to you. Oh, Poleon, if you only knew!"

He drew a long breath. When he spoke his voice had the timbre of some softly played instrument, and a tremor ran through his words.

"No! I don't know w'at kin' of love is dis, for sure. De kin' of love I know is de kin' I sing 'bout in my songs. I s'pose it's different breed to yours, an' I'm begin to see it don't live nowhere but on dem songs of mine. Dere's long tam' I waste here now—five year—but tomorrow I go again lookin' for my own cuntry."

"Five year I've wait—an' jus' for dis."

"Poleon," she cried, looking up with startled eyes, "not tomorrow, but Sunday! We will go together."

He shook his head. "Tomorrow, Necla! An' I go alone."

"Then you won't marry me?" she asked in a hushed and frightened voice. "No! Dere's wan t'ing I can't do even for you, Necla; dere's wan t'ing I can't geeve, dat's all—jus' wan on all de worl'. I can't kill de lit' god wit' de bow an' arrer. He's all dat mak' de sun shine, de birds sing an' de leaves w'isper to me; he's de wan lit' feller w'at mak' my life wort' livin' an' keep music in my soul. If I keel 'im never goin' fin' my lan' of content nor sing nor laugh no more. I'm t'inkin' I would rader sing songs to 'im all alone onderneat' de stars beside my campfire an' talk wit' 'im in my bark canoe dan go livin' wit' you in fine house an' let 'im get col' an' die."

"But I told him I'd marry you—that I had always intended to. He'll believe I was lyin'," she moaned in distress.

"Dat's too bad, but dis t'ing ain' no doin's wit' me. Dere's wan t'ing in dis worl' mus' live forever, an' dat's love. If we keel 'im den it's purty poor place for stoppin' in. I'm cut off my han' for help you, Necla, but I can't be husban' to no woman in fun."

Poleon waited patiently until her paroxysm of sobbing had passed, then gently raised her and led her out through the back door into the summer day, which an hour ago had been so bright and promising and was now so gray and dismal. He followed her with his eyes until she disappeared inside the log house.

"An' dat's de end of it all," he mused. "Five year I've wait—an' jus' for dis."

Meade Burrell never knew how he gained his quarters, but when he had done so he locked his door behind him, then loosed his hold on things material. He raged about the room like a wild animal and vented his spite on every inanimate thing that lay within reach. As yet his mind grasped but dully the fact that she was to marry another, but gradually this thought in turn took possession of him. She would be some one else's wife in two days. The thought drove the lover frantic, and he felt that madness lay that way if he dwelt on such fancies for long.

As he grew calmer his reason began to dissect the scene that had taken place in the store, and he wondered whether she had been lying to him, after all. No doubt she had been engaged to the Frenchman and had always planned to wed Poleon, for that was not out of reason. She might even have set out mischievously to amuse herself with him, but at the recollection of those rapturous hours they had spent together he declared aloud that she had loved him, and him only. Every instinct in him shouted that she loved him in spite of her cruel protestations.

A man came with his supper, but he called to him to begone. There are those who believe that in passing from daylight to darkness a subtle transition occurs akin to the change from positive to negative in an electrical current and that this intangible, untraceable atmospheric influence exerts a definite psychical effect upon men and their modes of thought. Be this as it may, it is certain that as the night grew darker the lieutenant's mood changed. He lost his fierce anger at the girl and reasoned that he owed it to her to set himself right in her eyes; that in all justice to her he ought to prove his own sincerity.

An up river steamer was just landing as he neared the trading post—a freighter, as he noted by her lights. In the glare at the river bank he saw Poleon and the trader, who had evidently returned from Lee's creek, and without accosting them he hurried on to the store. Peering in from the darkness, he saw Alluna. No doubt Necla was alone in the house behind. So he stumbled around to the back to find the window of her room aglow behind its curtain, and, receiving no answer to his knock, he entered, for it was customary at Gale's to waive ceremony. Inside the big room he paused, then stepped swiftly across and rapped at her door, falling back a pace as she came out.

Instead of speaking at once, as he had planned, to prevent her escaping, he was struck speechless, for the vision that met his eyes was that which he had seen one blithe spring morning three months before, but tonight there was no shawl to conceal her sweetly rounded neck and shoulders, whose whiteness was startling against the black of the ballroom gown. The slim gold chain hung around her neck, and her hair was pulled high, as before. He noted every smallest detail as she stood there waiting for him to speak, forgetful of everything else.

She had put on the gown again to see if perchance there might be some mark of her blood or breed that had escaped her previous scrutiny, and, as there was no one to observe her, she had attired herself slowly, absorbed in her whimsy. Her wistful beauty dazed the young man and robbed him of the words he had rehearsed, but as she made to flee from him, with a pitiful gesture, toward her room the fear of losing her aroused him and spurred his wit.

"Don't go away! I have something I must tell you. I've thought it over, and you've got to listen, Necla."

"I am listening," she answered very quietly.

"Understand me, I'm not whining, and I'm willing to take my medicine. I couldn't talk or think very straight this afternoon, but you were wrong."

"Yes, I know now I was wrong. It was most unkindly, wasn't it? But, you see, I am only a little savage."

"I don't mean that. I mean you were wrong when you said I had played with you. In the sight of God, I swear you were mistaken. You have made me love you, Necla. Can't you see?"

She made no sign. "If you can't, I owe it to you and to myself to set you right. I am not ashamed to acknowledge my love, and even when you are married to Poleon I want you to know that I shall love you always."

Even yet she made no sign. Was he not merely repeating the same empty words with which he had so often beguiled her? There was no word of marriage. He still considered her unworthy, beneath him.

"You do love me, Necla—you do! I see it in your eyes!" and he started toward her with open arms, but she shrank away from him.

"No, no! Don't touch me!" she almost screamed.

"My dear one," he breathed, "you must listen to me. You have nothing to fear, for I love you—love you—love you! You were made for me! You'll be my wife. Yes; you'll be married on Sunday, but to me, not to Poleon or any other man!"

Did she hear aright? Was he, her soldier lover, asking her, the Indian girl?

"You do love me, don't you?" he pleaded. But still she could not speak, and he tried to read the answer in her swimming eyes.

"You mean—you want to—marry me?" she murmured at last, hesitating shyly at the word that had come to play so momentous a part in her little world.

"Indeed I do," he declared, with emphasis, "in spite of everything, anything! Nothing else matters. I'll quit the army. I'll give up the service and my people too. I'll put everything back of me, and we'll start out anew—just you and I."

"Wait a moment," she said, retreating a little from his eager, outstretched arms. "Why do you need to do all that?"

"Never mind why. It's as good as done. You wouldn't understand."

"But I think I do understand now. Do I really mean all that to you?"

"Yes, and more!"

"Listen to me," said the girl quietly. "I want you to talk slowly so I may not misunderstand. If you—marry me must you forego all those great things you speak of—your profession, your family, your future?"

"Nonsense!" exclaimed the soldier. "If they don't bother me, Necla, why should you worry?"

"Would you really have to give up your family—your sister? Would those people you are so proud of and who are so proud of you—would they cut you off?"

"There is no question of cutting off. I have no inheritance coming. I don't want any. I don't want anything except you, dear."

"Won't you tell me?" she persisted. "You see, I am dull at these things."

"Well, what if they do?" he conceded. "You more than make it up to me. You outweigh a thousand families."

"And would your marriage to a—a to me destroy your army career?"

"Well, it will really be much easier for both of us if I resign from the service," he finally admitted. "In fact, I've decided to do so at once."

"No, no! You mustn't do that. Tonight you think I am worth the price but a day will come—"

He leaned forward and caught her hands in his.

"Meade, I can't let you do it."

"I'd like to see you help yourself," he said banteringly.

"I can and I will. You must not marry me, Meade. It's not right; it can't be." She suddenly realized what this renunciation would mean and began to shiver.

"It will be over before you know it," she heard him saying in a lame attempt at levity. "Father Barnum is an expert, and the operation won't occupy him ten minutes."

At that moment they heard the voices of the trader and his squaw outside, approaching the house. The girl's breath caught in her throat. She flung herself recklessly upon her lover's breast and threw her arms around his neck in an agony of farewell.

"Meade, Meade, my soldier," she sobbed, "kiss me goodbye for the last time!"

"No," he said roughly. "Now you must go," she said, tearing herself away, "and for my sake don't see me again."

"I will! I will! I will ask your father for you tonight."

"No, no! Don't, please don't! Wait till—till tomorrow—till I say the word! Promise me! On your love, promise!"

Her eyes held such a painful entreaty that he nodded acquiescence as the door opened and her father and Alluna entered.

HERPICIDE WILL SAVE IT! HERPICIDE WILL SAVE IT! TOO LATE FOR HERPICIDE! DON'T CRY FAKE!

The mere mention of "hair remedy" throws some men into a fit of irrational incredulity. It is true that before the microbic origin of baldness was discovered that most hair remedies were worthless, but not many of them were designedly so. Chronic baldness is incurable but its forerunners, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair can be overcome by stopping the microbic growth with Newbro's Herpicide. It prevents reinfection. Money back if unsatisfactory. A delightful hair dressing. Stops itching of scalp almost instantly.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 5.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 6 points with active months selling 5 to 6 points net lower during the first few minutes under a renewal of commission house liquidation such as followed the government report of yesterday and which was promoted this morning by slightly disappointing cables and prospects for better weather over the week end. The selling was not aggressive being for long rather than short account and was pretty well absorbed by week-end covering with the market ruling 2 or 3 points up from the lowest during the middle of the morning when business was quiet and the larger operators seemed to be waiting developments. The market closed barely steady with prices net one point higher to 5 points lower.

Receipts at the ports today 6,710 bales against 9,762 last week and 10,218 last year. For the week 55,000 bales against 59,361 last week and 64,544 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,754 bales against 4,862 last year and at Houston 992 bales against 1,351 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 10.50; middling gulf 11.05. Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 5.—The dry goods market has been more active in the primary division during the week the cotton goods market being notably stronger and tending higher. Fine and fancy cottons are being purchased more liberally. Bleached goods are being advanced or plucked at value. Colored cottons are firmer. Printed goods are being bought in large quantities. The linen market is exceptionally strong. Burlaps were five points lower and are still weak.

MARKET GOSCEIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 5.—The animated speculation in stocks went prosperously on its way today. There was very heavy realizing obvious in the irregular movement of prices, the stocks which were strongest yesterday dipping under the weight of this selling. The moderation of the reaction where this process was going on was evidence of the absorptive power of the market and of the success with which the digestion of speculative profits was being effected. Stocks not before included in the advance were moved upwards to sustain the market against the realizing sales in the older favorites. The conviction that speculative capitalists of the largest resources were conducting the principal operations in the market was fostered. The ease of the money market is regarded as the most potent influence in the markets buoyancy. The bank statement offered a sharp admonition on the money situation and a presentiment of its complexion may have influenced the increase in the selling of stocks which made the closing reactive.

Instead of an expected moderate gain in cash, the banks have lost $3,855,000 in the averages and $3,310,000 in the actual comparison.

Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value $4,357,000. United States 4s coupon have declined 1-2 cent. on call during the week. Total sales of stocks today were 785,600 shares.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, June 5.—Continued light receipts and a brisk demand for the cash grain caused an advance of nearly one cent in the price of July wheat on the board of trade today. The more distant deliveries, however, were weak on account of ideal weather conditions now prevailing for the new crop. At the close prices were 3-8c lower to 5-8c higher compared with yesterday's final figures. Corn and oats closed weak and provisions steady.

Women Who Are Envious.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

Vacation time is here; call and see our line of trunks, suit cases and traveling bags. Big assortment at Redder's.

A CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.

Game at Goldsboro.
 Goldsboro, N. C., June 5.—Stoehr shut Raleigh out with only one scratch here today, winning easily by the score of 2 to 0. Only 29 men faced the Giants' twirler who was pitching his third game against the same team this week. Dock got two of the hits made off Brandon's delivery, scoring on Zanelli's sacrifice and Seal's single. This is the Giants' third successive victory from Raleigh. Score:
 Goldsboro 000 100 10x—2 7 1
 Raleigh 000 000 000—0 1 1
 Batteries—Stoehr and Fulton; Brandon and Rowe; umpire Carter; time 1:15; attendance 700.

A Spectacular Game.
 Rocky Mount, N. C., June 5.—With both teams playing the game for all there was in it and with superb fielding on the part of both, the Railroaders met defeat at the hands of the Fayetteville Highlanders this afternoon by a score of three to two. Both pitchers were effective and both pitched good ball throughout. Smith for the locals secured a bad start by hitting Lohr in the first inning and another infield grounder being beaten out and a single scored two men.

Another was added in the seventh on an infield hit, a steal, a sacrifice and a squeeze. Spectacular plays were made by both teams and Clements' robbing James for the locals of a hit on a drive in deep left was spectacular baseball. Lambert at second for the locals made several stops that brought applause. The game was well played and enjoyed by the 700 fans who saw it, the only detracting feature being in the kicking about several close decisions and in every one Umpire McLaughlin showed that he had his peepers on them. Score:
 Rocky Mount.....001 100 000—2 5 0
 Fayetteville 200 000 100—3 5 1
 Batteries—Smith and Stephens; Walters and Duhrin; time 2:00; attendance 754.

Walls and Shrieks.
 We met the enemy, and we are their'n!
 Another bath of Kalsomine—but just watch us soon.

From the number of errors turned out by the Sailors it looks like they've picked up on mighty bad habit that Fayetteville dropped.

Lane's demure and coquettish curves certainly held a fascination for Wilmington's batters.

Armstrong for Wilson is certainly on the job in left field. By classic work he fished a clean single from Sexton.

Maybe Wilson's attempt at a squeeze wasn't nipped in the bud.

Spartanburg leads the Carolina Association in fielding and batting. A comparison of the averages just issued by that organization shows Spartanburg batted .248 against Wilson's .178, in the Eastern Carolina League. Spartanburg fielded .950 against Wilson's .966.

FRANCE NOT DECADENT.

Ambassador Jusserand Presents San Francisco Medal From France.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)
 San Francisco, June 5.—The ceremony attending the presentation to San Francisco of a gold medal expressing the admiration of the French Republic for the wonderful rehabilitation of this city since the earthquake and fire in 1906, took place at the Orpheum theatre today. Jan Jules Jusserand, Ambassador to the United States, made the presentation speech on behalf of the people of France, and the medal was received by Edward R. Taylor, mayor.

Ambassador Jusserand, Mayor Taylor and about 2,000 members of the local French colony who attended a reception to the Ambassador and Madame Jusserand last night, entered vigorous protests to the statements made by President David Starr Jordan, of Stanford University, in a recent speech at Bryn Mawr College that France was a decadent nation.

M. Jusserand said:
 "The nation that can produce a Pasteur that leads the world in the sciences, that first developed the submarine and that ranks first in the navigation of the air, cannot by any stress of circumstances be termed a decadent race."
